1st Yanks in Tokyo Friday

YOKOHAMA, Sept. 4 (AP)—New landings today expanded the American occupation forces' powerful grip on the Tokyo area, and Gen. MacArthur, in a general order, gave his armies authority to requisition anything they need in Japan.

First occupation of Tokyo itself, scheduled for Friday, is to be outlined in detail at a meeting of the Japanese First Army Command with Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, American Eighth Army commander, at Yokohama Wednesday.

MacArthur instructed the Japanese to turn all existing prisoner of war camps over to the highest ranking officer interned in each, and gave him authority to demand of the Japanese whatever food and medical care is necessary for his camp.

The initial Tokyo occupation force will number only 3350, said the Japanese government communique announcing the entry on Friday.

The communique said policemen would be detailed to maintain law and order in all areas of occupation, government organs and public organizations would continue to function as usual, and all negotiations between American forces and Japanese authorities would be conducted by liaison officials.

Preceding the occupation of Tokyo, Gen. MacArthur's troops half-encircled the capital with new landings today, while 120 miles southwest naval forces landed at Hamamatsu and other landings were being made at Takusu, port city of Kyushu island and at Kanoya airfield on Kyushu.

Hamamatsu was shelled by the American and British fleets July 30. Kanoya airfield was the base from which the Japanese launched their costly Kamikaze raids against American forces on Okinawa.

Led by minesweepers, two destroyers and six small troopships steamed without incident into Kagoshima Bay to land their forces at Takusu's beaches. The task force was under command of Navy Capt. Clyde M. Jensen.

Associated Press Correspondent Robbin Coons, aboard Jensen's flagship, radioed that American planes already were landing at Kanoya. Radio Tokyo indicated they might have carried some airborne troops.

By nightfall, nearly 100,000 Americans were scheduled to be on Japanese soil. A half million are due to be landed during the month.

The Japanese communiques, which have been announcing occupation schedules ahead of MacArthur's headquarters (but presumably with his permission), reported 15,460 occupation troops would enter a number of points in the Kanagawa and Shizuoka prefectures—west and south of Tokyo—preceding occupation of the capital.

It listed cities to be occupied as Hiratsuka and Oiso, 6500 troops; Odawara, 2250; Gotemba, 720; Hatara, 1020; Uendhara, 1020, and 3350 in Hichioji City, the metropolitan district of Tokyo.

Radio Tokyo also reported 20,000 American troops were landing today at the Tachikawa army Air base, northwest of Tokyo. They will set up headquarters at Tokyo University of Commerce at near-by Yabo village and will extend their occupancy into other towns in the area.

YOKOHAMA IN RUINS—Wreckage and war-torn buildings in Yokohama give evidence of the terrific toll taken by American Superfortresses in their raids over Japan, prior to the surrender last Saturday of the Nipponese. Miles of devastation resulted from the mighty air assaults.

MacArthur Cuts Jap Diet Rules

YOKOHAMA, Sept. 4 (AP)—Gen. MacArthur ruled today that war correspondents could attend the opening session of the Japanese Diet without restrictions, after newsmen had protested a provision that they be searched at the door.

MacArthur notified the Japanese government that the correspondents would attend subject only to the usual decorum expected at a public gathering.

10 Ships Sail to Save Captives

By SPENCER DAVIS

YOKOHAMA, Sept. 4 (AP) — Americans freed from the hellholes of Japan told their stories of starvation, brutality and torture directly today to Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, now commanding Eighth Army occupation forces, and names of Japanese responsible were added steadily to a growing war-criminals list.

The Navy simultaneously sent a hospital ship, four transports, a cruiser and four rescue destroyers to Hamamatsu, 120 miles southwest of Tokyo, to evacuate other hundreds of Allied prisoners.

These ships earlier had helped evacuate approximately 1500 from the Tokyo area.

Due this afternoon were 462 others being brought to Yokohama from the Ashio prison camp, and plans were rushed for release of 3000 more at Niigata, a west coast port. In northern Honshu and northernmost Hokkaido an estimated 11,500 await liberation.

Eighty per cent of the 2000 already examined here are in serious condition, medical officers said.

Carrier planes of the U. S. Third Fleet searched Japan for others, and spotted 60 excited prisoners waving widely from a camp at Hikone village, 50 miles west of Nagoya. One man was waving the Tricolor of France.

Adm. Sir Bruce Fraser, commanding the British Pacific fleet, also was checking lists of his own captured nationals and reported approximately 39,100 British Commonwealth internees in camps within his jurisdiction.

They include about 12,500 in

Chinese 6th Army Will See Surrender

By SPENCER MOOSA

CHUNGKING, Sept. 4 (AP)—Troops of the American-trained and American-equipped Chinese Sixth Army, which helped drive the Japanese from North Burma, will fly to Nanking today for the formal surrender of Japanese forces in the China theater scheduled for Thursday, the high command announced.

The movement, scheduled to start several days ago, was held up by bad weather.

The high command reported the junction of forces under Gen. Yen Hsi-Shan from Shansi province and Gen. Fu Tso-Yi from the inner Mongolian province of Suiyuan at Tatung in northern Shansi. A number of other towns were recovered peacefully, including Paoching in Hunan, once an American air base.

Gen. Ho Ying-Chin, commander of Chinese field forces, who will accept the Japanese surrender, sent a memorandum to Japanese Com. Yasuji Okamura listing 15 representatives who will receive regional surrenders, and the points at which these will be received.

As the Chinese prepared to accept surrender at Hanoi, reports from that capital told of uprisings there and nearby areas by Annamites in which at least 10 Frenchmen were killed.

3 Missing In Boat Off Woods Hole

Coast Guard vessels and planes and a Navy blimp searched the waters of Vineyard Sound today for traces of three Woods Hole residents who have not been seen since Saturday, when they left Ir. a 19-foot sailing dory for Edgartown.

The trio, Ray Halverson, 26, his wife, Margaret, 26, and Miss Ann Hayer, 26, all employes of the Oceanographic Institute at Woods Hole, had obtained rooms at Edgartown for the holiday week-end and planned to sail back to Woods Hole some time yesterday.

Edgar Stacy, whom they had planned to visit, reported the three young people had never reached Edgartown. Their failure to return home yesterday had been relayed to Coast Guard authorities by A. C. Vine, of Woods Hole.

Vine said they left Woods Hole Saturday in a red sailing dory after telling him of their plans to spend the holiday weekend at Edgartown and return home no later than noon yesterday.

Whe they failed to arrive at nightfall, he became worried and notified the Coast Guard.

At dawn today a Navy blimp took off from Quonset and two coast guard planes also hopped off for an aerial search of the Vineyard sound area. In addition, three coast guard crash boats and a submarine chaser put out from Woods Hole to join in the search.

JERRY WRINN, 8, OF MIAMI
Dad Flies to Dying Son

Doomed Boy Reunited With Soldier Dad

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Sept. 4 (INS)—Frank Wrinn, just discharged from the Army, arrived in Miami Beach early today and roused his eight-year-old son Jerry, the lad that doctor's have given only four years to live.

Jerry awoke to a happy reunion with his father, their first meeting since Wrinn went overseas three years ago.

Mrs. Wrinn, wife of the 37-year-old ex-army sergeant, said she had been awake all night awaiting his arrival.

Wrinn, twice wounded in Europe, was released from the Army in New York last week-end with 108 discharge points. He planned to stay in Miami to follow any clues to scientific knowledge which might bring about a cure for Jerry's disease—a type of dystrophy similar to that which cost the life of Lou Gehrig.

"Since Jerry has a possible four years to live, surely something can be done," Wrinn said.

He declared, hopefully, "Medical science is moving pretty fast, and who knows but what somebody will find an entirely new angle on Jerry's trouble."

Wrinn arrived in Miami aboard an Eastern Air Liner on a ticket presented him by the New York Daily Mirror. He went at once to the small apartment near the Miami Beach ocean front where his wife and son live.

When reporters called this morning, Mrs. Wrinn was up and about the apartment, but father and son were in bed. They had no plans for the day, except a trip to the beach and a movie.

One-Armed Hero Home, Takes Bride

By ALICE BISSELL

Charles A. MacGillvray of Pilsudski way, South Boston, is home. He has one arm, the Congressional Medal of Honor, a bride who was Miss Esther Manning of West Fourth st., South Boston, who became his wife Friday, and a philosophy that should be brought to the attention of Congress. He summed it up:

"I guess all of us want to do something decent."

MacGillvray was a cook before he went to war. He can't see how a one-arm man can do any cooking, what with one thing boiling, another frying and the kettle rumbling like a tin Mt. Vesuvius. He thinks, though, he might be a good meat inspector. He learned a little about meat when he was a cook.

MacGillvray went into the Army in 1943. He was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor at a White House ceremony, Aug. 23, for extraordinary heroism on a battlefield at Wolfing, Germany, in January, when he killed 75 Germans while taking 22 bullets in the arm he was to lose.

The wedding of the sergeant and Miss Manning by Rev. Francis Shields in St. Augustine's Church, South Boston, blossomed from a romance begun before he went overseas.

A native of Prince Edward Island, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland MacGillvray, the sergeant has made his home for the past eight years in Wollaston with his brother John.

His brother and the bride's sister, Mrs. Miriam Logan, were the only attendants at the marriage ceremony.

Jewel Pins Theft On Parolee

His attachment for a brooch, consisting of two hearts pierced by an arrow, proved the downfall of Lawrence McNamara, 32-year-old parolee from Dannemora, N. Y., prison, police testified today as he was found guilty in municipal court on a charge of stealing costume jewelry valued at $478.

Judge Frank W. Tomasello imposed a six-month jail term and ordered McNamara held in $3000 when he appealed.

Police charged McNamara stole three suitcases from a parked car in Carver st., South End. He was picked up in Roxbury without the bags but police testified the glittering brooch was found in his pocket. Wilner H. Seeger, jewelry salesman, identified the piece as one of the stolen items.

Hub Knows Gas Rationing Over

Downtown traffic today was heavier than at any time since the relaxation of gasoline rationing, with extra officers assigned to traffic duty in the downtown department store section.

Parking lots were filled to capacity throughout the city, and many were turning away motorists before noon.

Police officials explained that many shoppers who ordinarily would have visited the stores last night were prevented by the holiday. The imminent reopening of schools was also a factor.

Wed to Wounded Veteran, Finds Flier-Husband Alive

OAKLAND, Cal., Sept. 4 (AP) — Mrs. Laurie Cales Bernstein, who married an Army lieutenant last July after having been advised that her first husband, Lt. James Cales, a Navy flier, had been killed in action, learned today Cales had been found safe in a Jap prison camp. July 9 she married Lt. Ethan Bernstein, a wounded veteran of the European war.

Cales' name appeared yesterday on a list of men liberated by a special mission of the U. S. Third Fleet. He was reported missing Sept 1, 1944. On May 7, this year, the Navy officially reported him killed in action, and two of his shipmates on the U. S. S. Hornet visited Mrs. Cales and told of seeing her husband shot into the sea.

She has a six months old son, James Cales, Jr., whom the flier has never seen. Her parents, visibly upset, said they did not know their daughter's plans.

Enoch Arden Bride Sues for Annulment

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 4 (AP)—Mrs. Ann Birdwell-Marshall, 19-year-old Kansas City girl who last week found herself with a surplus of husbands, today filed suit in Jackson County Circuit Court for annulment of her marriage to Jack Marshall, 33-year-old Wichita mechanic, an uncle of her first husband.

The action follows discovery that the girl's first husband, Sgt. Gene D. Birdwell, 21, reported killed in action over Burma, has been rescued from a Jap prison camp at Yokohama.

Mrs. Birdwell married Marshall only 12 days before word came that her flyer-husband is alive.

Entering the Commonwealth ave., apartment of Mrs. F. Castle Meacham, Back Bay and North Shore socialite, during the Labor Day week-end, thieves stole jewelry valued at more than $4700, police were told today.

The break was discovered by a building employe.

Mrs. Meacham said her loss included a $2500 gold cross with 11 brooch, a $500 opal pendant and several smaller items. She told police she was away during the week-end.

A-Bomb City 'Dead' 6 Yrs.

By CLARK LEE

HIROSHIMA, Sept. 4 (INS)—A Japanese naval surgeon—standing in the rain-swept wilderness that was Hiroshima until an atomic bomb exploded over its central area Aug. 6—told me today he believes it will be at least five or six years before the people can safely rebuild and reoccupy the city.

A total of 53,000 of Hiroshima's pre-atomic bomb population of 343,000 is dead.

Thirty-three thousand are known to have died almost immediately in that awful flash at 8:18 a. m. when man first proved to himself that it is in his power to destroy all living things, and the death toll has been rising daily.

At least 5000 persons now are dying of radioactive burns with no hope of salvation, and it is expected the dead will total more than 80,000.

The death rate is still about 100 persons daily.

A high Japanese provincial official furnished us with these casualty figures for Hiroshima:

On Aug. 20—33,000 dead, 30,000 missing and probably dead, 14,000 seriously injured, 43,500 less seriously injured.

On Sept. 1, known dead had mounted to 53,000.

But no casualty figures could possibly describe the four and one-half miles of terrifying desolation—an area where the fear of death will bar permanent residents for years to come.

Street cars are running and a few people are walking through the ruins of Hiroshima, but there is nothing standing above the ground except a dozen reinforced concrete buildings—all of which are completely burned.

Every Japanese-style building in the stricken area has been blasted or burned flat, and all that remains in the streets are piles of scattered tiles and black dead trees.

Reports of witnesses and doctors indicated that clothing provided some protection against the death rays from the explosion.

Burns were inflicted mainly on exposed portions of bodies. Black clothing, however, seemed to absorb the death rays and was less helpful than white clothing, which reflected them.

The point Jap doctors made much of in this case was that severity of the burns depended on the amount of skin surface exposed.

Water seems to absorb death rays.

That was a comforting thought this afternoon when we visited Hiroshima in a driving rain.

The Jap naval surgeon said, however, that the rays will make drinking water dangerous for years to come. He named water as the most dangerous source of future radioactive infection.

Right now it is relatively safe for people to walk around or ride through the streets for hours at a time. But to remain in the area for a few months is almost certain to invite infection.

The Jap doctor described the effects of the radioactivity as similar to an overdose of X-ray, but many times stronger.

Victims suffer decrease in white blood cells, their hair falls out, they suffer from diarrhea, their gums bleed, and they lose weight, have no appetite and soon die, according to the Jap surgeon.

The surgeon says the rays probably cause sterility, as in the case of X-ray burns.

In addition to the toll of human life, thousands of trees are standing starkly stripped of leaves and will never grow again.

Some tree trunks were snapped by the blast as if hit by shrapnel, like a million other trees littering the world's battlefields.

Grass apparently was little affected by the atom blast, and has grown out again even in downtown areas.

Truman Prepares Message

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4 (AP)—President Truman has drafted a comprehensive message for delivery to Congress this week, and later will submit his views on disposition of the atomic bomb in a separate communication.

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters he would announce final plans tomorrow.

The President completed the message yesterday during a holiday cruise on Potomac.

How Cold Out Your Way?

Snapping back after a night of the double-blanket type, Greater Boston weather today was sunny and warmer with the temperature climbing to the upper 60's.

The lowest official reading was a chill 33 at Norton. Unofficial temperatures included Woburn, 35, Concord, 36, and Hingham, 38.

Boston's low for the past 24 hours was 50, just seven degrees above the record coid for this date, registered in 1872.

The weatherman predicted about 60 for tonight with partly cloudy and warmer for Wednesday.

Urge Release Of 5 Groups

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4 (AP)—Immediate discharge from the armed forces of almost all married men with families was urged today by Chairman Sabath (D.) of Illinois of the House Rules Committee.

Sabath said these five categories should be returned to civilian life at once:

1—Men who have families and have been overseas.

2—Men with families who have been in uniform at least two years.

3—Students under 20 who were at school at induction and who will resume schooling.

4—Owners, part owners, executives and supervisors whose services "are vitally needed in their businesses and their plants."

5—All limited service men except administrators in separation centers.

Sees Married Men's Discharge Speeded

Indication that the point system of discharge from the armed forces may be unnecessary so far as married men are concerned was given today by Cong. John W. McCormack of South Boston, majority leader of the House. His office here released the following statement:

"Early discharge of married men from the armed forces, so they may return and be reunited with their families, is of vital importance. The war unfortunately took many husbands away, but now it is over they should be discharged as quickly as possible—without regard to the point system.

"The family is the basis of society and it is in the interest of society and government that the temporary separations caused by war be healed."

McCormack said he had communicated his views to President Truman and congressional leaders, especially the chairman of the House military affairs committee and the naval affairs committee.

Tobin Delays El Fare Boost

Gov. Tobin announced today that the proposed increase in Boston Elevated Railway zone fares from 5 cents to 7½ cents, scheduled to become effective next Saturday, had been postponed for one week.

The Governor's announcement came after he had conferred at length with the public trustees of the Elevated and with Chairman Thomas A. Flaherty of the State Utilities Commission.

Tobin said he had requested both the trustees and Flaherty to prepare and present to him a breakdown of the operating costs of the Elevated before the date when the proposed increase should become effective.

The Governor also plans further conferences with the trustees and with Chairman Flaherty before Sept. 15, the new effective date.

Why Boss Pickets Plant

DETROIT, Sept. 4 (AP)—There were five pickets in front of the Aero Pattern & Engineering Co. plant in Grand River ave. today and one of them was Charles Buec, co-owner of the firm.

"I had to do it," he explained, "I'm a member of the Pattern Makers Ass'n (AFL) and I received a card instructing me to report for picket duty."

He added, however:

"I would have started picketing the shop anyway; I want more money like my men; they get between $2.25 and $2.45 an hour while I'm getting $15 a week. That's because they get all our money."

The shop employs about 20 men.

Hub Heroes Among 3349 GIs On Gen. Bliss

By PAULINE WARREN

More than 3300 more war heroes most of them with well over 100 points and many of them dripping with medals, debarked from the Navy transport USS General Bliss today at Commonwealth Pier and soon will be headed back to civilian life.

Three hours later S.S. Bienville also pulled in at Commonwealth Pier to debark another 3300 soldiers, most of them from engineer and other special units of the air force. Of this group, 176 were from New England.

The Bliss brought home 3349 soldiers, 287 of them New Englanders and one of them perhaps the most decorated of Dorchester's servicemen.

He's Capt. Maurice G. Reidy, 30, of Cushing ave., who has 135 points and modestly wears a Silver Star and the Bronze Star with two clusters, for a total of four decorations while under fire since D-Day in Normandy.

His first thought was for his wife, Cora Coty Reidy, 21, and his daughter, Lois Ann, 2, who have been living in Winchendon. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Reidy of Cushing ave., Dorchester.

While Capt. Reidy would say nothing, his men of the 83d Infantry Division said plenty. They told how he killed 20 Germans single-handed and knocked out a Tiger tank to win his Silver Star. The three Bronze Star decorations were won for the following: Bringing back word from a surrounded battalion and then aiding in its rescue, carrying back four wounded comrades on his back, and heroism of all types in the several campaigns in France and Germany.

In addition, he wears the Purple Heart with two clusters for being wounded three times and returning each time into action.

Among other high-pointers were the following: PFC William H. Babcock of Austin st., Allston, who has 133 points, two Purple Hearts and seven battle stars, and T-Sgt. John McLaughlin of Main st., Winchester, 112 points and seven battle stars. Both are with the Second Armored Division.

Others included T-Sgt. Charles Khederian of Nicholas ave., Watertown, with 118 points, seven battle stars and 34 months overseas, and T-Sgt. Philip Maloof of Elm st., Somerville, who in 36 months piled up 111 points with five battle stars and a Bronze Star.

The returning veterans were made up from high point men of a number of units and virtually all will get discharges very soon.

Among those arriving on the S. S. Bienville were two Greater Boston priests, Capt. Richard J. Shea, for eight years a Latin teacher at Boston College, and Capt. Alexander McCarthy of Sacred Heart Church, Cambridge.

Other returnees included Sgt. Saul Podolsky of Dorchester, PFC James Cusick of Medford, Cpl. James Currie of Hyde Park, Cpl. Jack Barry of Arlington, Lt. Robert R. Deutsch of Marsh st., Belmont; Sgt. John P. Delargy of Eldredge st., Hingham; Cpl. Peter Nuccio of Vine st., Lynn; Cpl. Al Needles of Garland st., Chelsea; PFC Horatio A. Doyle, Jr., of Washington st., Dorchester; Cpl. Leonard Rosen of Hawthorne st., Chelsea; S-Sgt. Thomas W. Hayes of Revere, and Lt. Eugene Qualis of Beacon st., Back Bay.

Others were Sgt. William F. Fine of Lynn st., Everett; Sgt. Edward Cohen of Normandy st., Roxbury; T-Sgt. Edwin Brown of Cleveland ave., Everett; PFC Logan Curtis of Thornton st., Roxbury; Cpl. Richard Gamble of Bateman st., Roslindale; S-Sgt. John J. Connors of Fayette st., Beverly; Sgt. George Colman of Loring st., South Boston; Sgt. Robert Hurley of Putnam st., Somerville; Sgt. Arthur Coughlin of Thetford ave., Dorchester, and T5 James F. Russell of Leverett st., West End.

Units of 85th, 89th Arrive in New York

NEW YORK, Sept. 4 (INS)—The Liberty ship William Wilkins arrived in New York today after a 10-day trip from Europe, believed to be a record run for a vessel of her type.

The Wilkins carried troops from the 85th and 88th Divisions of the Fifth Army.

3 Protest War Objector Clause in Bonus Ruling

Three discharged World War II veterans challenged the State's right today to require that applicants for the $100 Massachusetts bonus sign statements that they never were conscientious objectors. The trio, Edward A. Trudell, State commander of the American Veterans of World War II; Albert J. Reynolds, chairman of the executive committee, and J. Ralph Granara, legislative counsel, called on Atty. Gen. Clarence H. Barnes to demand an immediate ruling on the legality of the proceedings.

Trudell said the three had refused to sign the statement and asserted that no honorably discharged serviceman or woman should be required to do so in order to obtain the $100 bonus.

The statement was inserted in applications last week after State Treasurer John E. Hurley had conferred with Asst. Atty. Gen. Roger Clapp concerning the provision in the bonus act which bars conscientious objectors and violators of the selective service act from its benefits.

At the time he said a copy of the statement would be mailed to all veterans who had filed applications prior to that time and estimated some 20,000 applications already had been received.

The challenge of the validity of the state's action regarding conscientious objection came only a few days after Atty. Gen. Barnes had straightened out a legislative "boner" by which members of the Coast Guard Reserve were not included in the list of the various branches of the service which were eligible for the bonus.

The attorney general ruled that members of the reserve were eligible for the bonus although they were ntnot named specifically in the act.

In today's conference, Trudell also criticised the Legislature for failing to appropriate money to provide for postage used to return discharge papers to veterans who applied for the bonus.

He further suggested that action be taken regarding the certification of residence of veterans and suggested that this be handled by city election departments or by town clerks.

His Red Diary Lists Beatings by Wife

Calling his shots from a little red diary, Fred R. Oulton, 39, of North Main st., Saugus, today testified to a long list of cruelties and beatings in seeking divorce in Salem Probate Court from his 210-pound wife, Agnes.

The petitioner fingered the pages, citing dates and incidents, including one occasion, on June 4, 1944, when he charges she ripped off his shirt, picked him from the floor and heaved him into a chair in the corner.

He said he weighed but 130 pounds and always ended up second best when the trouble started.

He got hit again July 7, 1944, according to the diary, when he criticized her for cashing his war bonds.

Oulton, who said he divorced his first wife in 1939 to wed Agnes, testified he left home Aug. 4, 1944 when she accused him of having a girl friend and tore off his shirt.

The little red book, he testified, carried notations on Oct. 8 and Oct. 25, 1944 concerning her alleged friendships with another man and her alleged admission that a new nightgown was a present from a boy friend. Last April 8, he testified, he returned and tried to begin all over again but left hurriedly after just managing to duck a heavy flashlight.

Mrs. Oulton failed to contest the action and Judge John V. Phelan took the matter under advisement.

Teeth, Bankroll Lost and Found In Holiday Rush

Women were the most careless among the Labor Day week-end traveling throng.

But both the one who left $1500 beside a sleeping soldier and the other who left her uppers in the rest room at Ayer railroad station are happy today.

A frantic feminine voice telephoned to the Boston and Maine Railroad offices at Greenfield:

Officialus stopped the train in the Greenfield yards and found the pocketbook right where the woman said she left it. The soldier was still asleep.

The second frantic woman did not talk so plainly. But she did make it clear what she had lost. Railroad Officer A. J. Persuitti found the missing bicuspids and the next train took them to Waltham where the woman waited.

Rich Marchioness Died to Scare Heir

LONDON, Sept. 4—Testimony that the wealthy Marchioness of Tavistock, 42, who died Saturday from an overdose of sleeping pills, may have swallowed the tablets to scare her husband, 28, heir to a $40,000,000 estate, was offered here at the inquest by the marquis himself.

Coroner F. C. Sheppard ruled there was not sufficient evidence to justify a verdict of either suicide or death from misadventure.

The marquis testified that his wife frequently took sleeping tablets "to frighten me" into being "more sympathetic, and more understanding."

Sheppard said: "It may have been that she was overwrought and in a spirit of bravado again wished to frighten her husband."

The marchioness died at Beech Hill Hotel, Rusklake Green, Sussex.

The marquis said his wife and two children, one 5 years and the other 18 months old, had gone to the hotel on a holiday.

About 7:30 p. m. Saturday, he said, "she told me that her dog had been ill, and that she had not gone to bed for 10 days, but had sat up with the dog."

The marchioness told him she was bery tired, had a terrible headache, and "must take something," he continued, but that he cautioned her "not to take anything."

Then, the marquis testified, she took from a drawer an envelope containing the capsules and swallowed all of them. He said his wife was "tired and over-wrought, crying and hysterical," and that she had declared "I must sleep. I will take as many of these as I like."

The marquis said he immediately telephoned for a doctor.

The marchioness was married to the marquis in 1939 when he was Lord Howland. She previously had been married to Kenneth Holloway in 1925. Her maiden name was Clare Gwendolen Bridgman.

The marchioness was described as one of London's best-dressed women who often was seen driving a big black car with two large dogs seated beside her.

210-Lb. Youth Held In Killing of Girl

VICTORIA, B. C., Sept. 4 (AP)—Charles (Chuck) Kinney, 17, was charged with murder today in the death of Phyllis Stroud, 18, whose body, clad only in silk panties, was found buried in sawdust in the basement of her home.

The 210-pound youth lived in the flat below the one occupied by the Stroud family. The girl disappeared on the night of Aug. 15, when Canada was celebrating the news of the Japanese capitulation.

An autopsy disclosed death was due to strangulation or suffocation. A coroner's jury found she had been murdered. Chief Constable Mack McLellan said Kinney had confessed.

Malden Sailor Denies Hit-and-Run Death

Charged with being a hit-and-run driver who was traced through a smashed radiator ornament after his auto allegedly struck and killed a discharged merchant seaman, Hazen M. Kaulbach, 27, a sailor, of Gray st., Malden, pleaded not guilty today in Suffolk Superior Court, and was held in $2500 bail for trial.

Kaulbach was arrested in Charlestown, S. C., as the alleged driver of the auto which struck and killed Fonzie W. Carter in Atlantic ave., last June 22. The smashed radator ornament found near Carter's body was traced to the car which Kaulbach allegedly was operating.

AuTOMatic discoveries

The greatest scientific discovery of all time was announced in August 1945—the ATOMIC bomb—it brought conquest to the Allies in the Second World War.

Back in 1909 Filene's Basement made a famous discovery—the AuTOMatic Plan—a set of business principles that have revolutionized store keeping and, in a brief span of 36 years, witnessed the meteoric rise of the most unique retailing institution in the world. Just as it is the hope of the scientists in the future years to come that "the application of the energy liberated by the atomic bomb will be used in power plants, etc., to raise the prosperity of all nations through collaboration and thereby stimulate progress for all"—so, too, Filene's unique and individual AuTOMatic Plan has been a means to prosperity and progress. Through good times and bad the AuTOMatic Plan strikes a note of prosperity because it gauges prices at all times to be just what the public wants to pay—it has been LOWERING THE COST OF LIVING FOR 36 YEARS—its great mass production lets with prices reduced to a minimum have helped millions save—struggling young couples, folks with large families, professional men and women with positions to maintain—and through its purchase of high grade retail stores and famous brands it has enabled folks who might otherwise not be able to afford them the luxury of fur coats, alligator handbags, Harris Tweeds, etc.—and, as a service to business, this unique bargain enterprise represents relief (if also unavoidable loss) to original owners to have outlet for their distressed lines—for there is always bound to be an overlapping between what the manufacturer makes and what the public buys—it is almost never exactly equal at best—thus the Basement buying policy is to take advantage of a lack of balance between supply and demand—hence thousands of manufacturers, jobbers, retailers, importers and others sell us their odd lots, seconds, discontinued lines and Basement customers profit. What is the plan that has maintained low prices through good times and bad, crises and booms—wars and depressions—our famous AuTOMatic Plan—first prices must be LOW or we lose through the automatic reductions of ⅓, ⅓, ¼, after 12, 18 or 24 selling days—goods given away to charitable institutions after 30 selling days and it works so successfully that less than one-tenth of one per cent gets given away. So it's easy to figure that even though you weren't born with a sense of thrift—you can depend on Filene's Basement AuTOMatic Plan to save you money! Beginning its 37th year.

THE PRIME OF LIFE CAN BE PROLONGED

Dr. Henry G. Sherman Says:

"A generous supply of Calcium results in better development of the young, a higher form of adult health, and a longer lease of what we may call the prime of life—the period between maturity and old age."

FOOD RATIONING MAY NOT SUPPLY SUFFICIENT CALCIUM, SAYS CLAUDE WICKARD, former U. S. Secretary of Agriculture.

Calcium is more often deficient in the diet than any other minerals. Calcium deficiency is a form of malnutrition that may be the cause of acidity, nervousness, fatigue, weakened heart muscles and other effects which hasten the onset of "OLD AGE" and shorten the "PRIME OF LIFE."

AM I NERVOUS?

Sleeplessness with ragged, jagged nerves may be due to a calcium deficiency which upsets the parathyroid glands causing intense sensitivity of the whole nervous system.

DO I TIRE EASILY?

A calcium starved body tires easily. A calcium deficiency may cause an upset nerve system, less strength, energy and vitality. No person can be normal without a sufficient supply of calcium.

AM I OLD AT 40?

Old at 40, evidences of early aging, perhaps at 50 or 60, may be due to calcium deficiency. Calcium is needed, in adequate amounts, in the repair and growth of body organs, tissues, cells. If your health is impaired, if you are run down, tired, old at 40 and nervous because you do not get enough Calcium or Phosphorus or Vitamin D or Vitamin B1 add KAL to your diet. See how much better you feel after KAL helps to build up, then maintain a normal Calcium-Phosphorus balance and help overcome the ill effects of a deficiency of the vital elements KAL so richly supplies.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 4 (INS) — One inmate of the Springfield police station cell block is rested and grateful.

He walked into the station, followed by a woman.

"Lock me up," he demanded of Police Sgt. James Walker.

"What have you done?" asked the policeman.

"Nothing," said the man. "I just wants get some sleep. My wife here has been nagging me so much I can't get any rest."

Walker obliged over the protests of the wife.

Home Tragedies Get GI's Release

Denver, Sept. 4 (AP)—Family misfortunes continue to dog Pvt. Glen Gray, believed to be en route from Manila to Denver.

Gray's wife, Amelia, died of a heart attack three months ago. A week later his daughter Janet, four, was stricken with infantile paralysis. A sister, Mrs. Leola Johnson, who has been caring for his son Billy, two, is ill.

Yesterday the private's father, James W. Grant, 65, died following an operation.

Gray is being honorably discharged from the Army because he is needed so urgently at home.

CANDIDATE IN MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 4 (AP)—Ezequiel Padilla, who resigned recently as foreign minister, tossed his hat into the ring today as a candidate for president of Mexico.

Pearl Harbor Trial Demanded

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4 (AP)—Senator Ferguson (R.) of Michigan, demanding a congressional investigation of the Pearl Harbor disaster, said today that "if the American people are going to be blamed, they have a right to trial."

Ferguson told reporters he would introduce a resolution—or possibly two—calling for a full congressional inquiry into the circumstances of the sneak Japanese attack Dec. 7, 1941.

One resolution would provide for a special Senate committee to make the investigation and the other would set up a special joint committee to conduct the inquiry.

Oregon Forest Fires Now 'All Over'

SALEM, Ore., Sept. 4 (AP)—The state forester looked out at drenching rain today and declared jubilantly that fires which have blackened possibly 200,000 acres "are all over."

The giant Tillamook blaze which rampaged through 160,000 acres since early July is going out—its last brands extinguished by 2.25 inches of precipitation. Rain is still falling.

Father of Five Held in Murder

RUMFORD, Me., Sept. 4—Charged with the murder of his ex-wife's friend during an argument over custody of five children, Rodney P. Grover, 35, of Dixfield, pleaded not guilty in municipal court here today and was held without bail for the November sitting of the Oxford County grand jury.

State Atty. Theodore Gonya told Judge Fred E. Hanscom that Grover shot Roland L. Harding, 31, of Bethel, when Harding went to Grover's home last Saturday accompanied by Mrs. Editha Grover, 31.

Gonya said the pair sought to take the five Grover children with them and that an argument ensued during which Harding was fatally shot.

The youngsters were placed in Mrs. Grover's custody when the couple was divorced last June, Gonya said.

Congress Told Big Boom Ahead

By WILLIAM S. NEAL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4 (INS)—A spokesman for the United States Chamber of Commerce told Congress today that a "big boom" is facing the United States.

Dr. Emerson Schmidt, speaking for the Chamber, made his prediction in opposing the $25 weekly unemployment compensation bill before the Senate finance committee.

"I am informed," Schmidt said, "that some people in the Federal Reserve System, who formerly feared a collapse with the end of the war, now fear run-away inflation and are working on credit restrictions and other measures."

Schmidt also said states have liberalized their unemployment compensation laws so that it is unnecessary to supplement them by Federal funds.

Find Woman's Body In Portland Pool

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 4 (AP)—Body of a woman identified as Mrs. Joanna Shafer, 32, Portland, was found today in a shallow pond in a municipal park several hours after what police described as an early morning swimming party of four—two women and two sailors.

40 SUMMER STREET

N. E. Holiday Death Toll 16, Nation's Is 363

Belated holiday excursionists were still homeward bound today, delayed through traffic jams or lack of transportation, after the greatest Labor Day trek since the summer of 1941, occasioned by the return of peace, the end of gasoline rationing and lifting of war-time travel restrictions.

Five more deaths came in New England today as the holiday ended and increased the area's fatality toll to 16, while throughout the nation 363 deaths were reported.

John Himble, 20, and James E. Dinwoodie, both of Westerly, R. I., were burned to death at Hopkinton, R. I., when their auto burst into flames after skidding and overturning.

Joseph Vickery, 47, of Burlington, died at St. John's Hospital, Lowell, of injuries suffered when his bicycle was struck by an auto.

Everett Brier, 22, of Nashua, N. H., was killed when his auto struck a tree in Easton. His two brothers, Joseph, 27, and Benjamin, 25, were injured critically.

Camelio Cusco, 4, Decatur st., East Boston, was killed, and her playmate, Emily Tatana, 4, also of Decatur st., was injured when they were struck by a trolley car in Meridian st.

Albert W. "Ace" Levis, 31, of Bellevue st., Dorchester, driving a midget car in a race at Topsfield Fair, and four spectators were injured when the car plunged from the track into the crowd.

The four, taken to Beverly Hospital, are Robert Gurka, 11, of Lawrence, fractured jaw and multiple injuries; William J. Sullivan, Jr., 16, of Topsfield, fractured right leg; Barbara M. Sweeney, 7, of Lawrence, internal injuries, and John E. Finneran, 57, of Kensington, N. H., fractured ribs and lacerated mouth.

Highways radiating from Boston through New England were clogged with traffic and cluttered with broken-down cars as the holiday rush reached its peak.

Baffled Love Seen Cause Of Girl's Nude Death Leap

LONDON, Sept. 4 (INS)—Unrequited love was advanced today as the possible motive for the death plunge of 23-year-old Sonia Araquistain, daughter of a former Spanish diplomat, whose nude body plummeted 80 feet from the roof of a London apartment.

Close friends called frequently at the apartment of the girl's father, Don Luis Araquistain, former Spanish ambassador to Berlin and Paris. These friends told of her love troubles, one saying:

"She was very much in love—she had many friends, men and girls, but I believe she was in love with a married man."

Still another described the girl as "most bitterly disappointed in love."

Sonia, who demonstrated considerable talent as an artist, plunged to death early yesterday after stripping off her clothing in the office of the apartment janitor where she had gone to use a telephone.

A psychologist said the girl may have suffered from schizophrenia. He said her action was "characteristic of a schizophrenic, especially if she was having a love affair or considering marriage.

Another friend said she talked "for hours" about a forthcoming marriage, but would not name the prospective husband.

Girl's Father Admits Killing Elderly 'Home-Wrecker'

CINCINNATI, Sept. 4 (AP)—Calm and unremorseful, a 54-year-old Chicago restaurant worker readily admitted today, police said, the fatal shooting of a wealthy machinery firm owner whom he accused of "breaking up my home."

Detective Chief Clem Merz said a formal charge of murder has been filed against Charles Gibbs for the hotel room slaying of Henry F. Smith, 66-year-old business executive.

Gibbs' daughter Virginia, 21, held as a material witness after leading police to her father as he sought to board a Chicago bus minutes after the slaying, was released on bond.

Merz said Gibbs had confessed the killing and quoted him as saying: "I did no wrong — he broke up my home."

He further quoted Gibbs as declaring: "Smith paid my daughter $75 a week during the two years they knew each other, and gave her two houses that are worth $5000.

The daughter told police her father came from Chicago yesterday and forced her at gunpoint to lead him to Smith's apartment in a downtown hotel.

The girl admitted accompanying him to the door of Smith's room, Merz declared, but said she then fled down a back stairway.

War Record Saves Him Jail

Two years of Army campaigning in the Pacific won a suspended six months sentence in Waltham District Court today for Emil W. Frotan, 40, of Galen st., Watertown, who pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny of $2100 from his former employer.

Judge Frederic A. Cratts looked over the soldier's honorable discharge record and then ordered him to go out and earn $270 which Frotan admitted had gone quickly in a round of night clubs.

The $270 was missing from a $2100 roll taken from an icebox at the home of Mario J. Castanzo of Mt. Auburn st., Watertown, for whom the soldier formerly worked.

School Head Gets Class Quarters

ROCKY HILL, Ct., Sept. 4 (AP)—The homemaking department of the junior high school is getting a thorough testing from the school principal and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Elmore Putnam.

Back from their vacation, the Putnams found an apartment they had rented would not be ready for two or three weeks. When the Putnams were unable to find any other living quarters, the board of education gave them permission to live in the homemaking rooms.

"We're managing very well," commented Putnam today, the eve of the school reopening.

Rattler Kills Cult Preacher

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Sept. 4 (AP)—Lewis E. Ford, 32, lay preacher of the Dolly Pond Church of God, died last night within half an hour after he had been bitten by a rattlesnake he was handling as a part of a religious service.

Snake handling as a part of "faith rites" at the Dolly Pond Church, in the northern section of the country, was started during revival services there several weeks ago.

Burmese Patriots Repel Jap Rebels

RANGOON, Sept. 4 (AP) — Fourteen Japanese soldiers, including three officers, have been killed in two clashes with Burmese patriots at a village 35 miles north of here since the Japanese surrender, southeast Asia headquarters said.

In the first action the Japanese surrounded a number of villagers but were forced to withdraw after 12 of their number were killed. The following night 20 Japanese attacked the village and two were killed before the force retreated.

Sliding Panels Hide Black Market Cache

BRUSSELS, Sept. 4 (AP)—Belgian police and a Canadian Army provost marshal raided a luxury hotel building at Campine today, found an intricate system of false walls, sliding panels and a large cache of black market foodstuffs.

The chief of the Belgian special police opened a trick telephone booth and pressed a button; a section of wall swung back, revealing a secret room containing 200,000 francs worth of tea, coffee, cereals, tomato juice, canned milk, chocolate and flour.

Yamashita Whines At Cell, Jail Fare

By PAT ROBINSON

MANILA, Sept. 4 (INS)—Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, "Tiger of Malaya," today griped about his treatment in new Bilibid prison and stubbornly professed disbelief of documented evidence of Jap prison camp atrocities.

In an exclusive interview, Yamashita, his staff officer, Lt. Gen. Muto, and other jailed enemy admirals and generals all told me flatly that they never had heard of such "inhumanties" as I recounted.

The once arrogant Yamashita, whose surrendered forces perpetrated a three-year reign of terror in the Philippines, complained about the size of his cell and said he "hates" his surroundings.

Yamashita protested that he is "imprisoned with ordinary civilian Filipino criminals, murderers and thieves."

Maj. Alex Muzyk assured him that he was being treated in strict accord with the Geneva convention. Maj. Muzyk offered him a tent outside, but Yamashita refused.

The surrendered general, who faces probable trial as a war criminal, slept well in a 10 by 15 foot iron-barred cell. His GI cot was provided with a mattress, sheets and a pillow.

He is confined along death row, with Filipino murderers for "neighbors."

When I questioned him, he had just come from a shower common to the civilian criminals and was ready to eat a lunch consisting of a GI messkit filled with mixed fish stew, rice and beets, with bread and cocoa on the side.

Despite their complaints, all the Jap officers ate everything—the same fare served to 12,000 ordinary Jap prisoners in vast surrounding compounds.

Jap Parliament Opens, Plans Reconstruction

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 4 (AP)—The Japanese House of Peers this afternoon resolved "to acknowledge the reality of our defeat," and "to cut a way out of the present situation and embark upon a new course of national rebuilding."

Emperor Hirohito opened the parliamentary session this morning, calling for the Japanese to "surmount the manifold hardships and trials attending termination of the war, make manifest the innate glory of Japan's national polity, win the confidence of the world," and "devote ourselves to reconstruction in every field."

The Emperor did not once use the word "surrender" in the imperial rescript as broadcast by the Domei agency but merely referred to "termination of the war" and "cessation of hostilities."

JAP TROOPS BACK

TOKYO BAY, Sept. 4 (AP)—Third Fleet headquarters announced today that a high speed Japanese transport had arrived here from Marcus Island carrying 300 Japanese troops, the garrison from that island.

Soldier Held as Suspect In Murder of McDonough

Peter J. Curran, a soldier allegedly AWOL from Ft. Devens, was arraigned in South Boston district court today on a charge of murder in the death of Michael McDonough, 26, of Milton st., South End, and was ordered held without bail for hearing Sept. 13.

Two witnesses had identified Curran as the man seen leaving a South Boston tavern with McDonough a short time before he was found in a lot with a bullet wound in his abdomen.

Police Chemist Frank Stratton, who subjected the soldier to a paraffin test after his arrest, reported the test disclosed Curran had fired a gun a few hours earlier.

Police said the two men were known to have quarrelled at a South Boston gathering three weeks ago, and had resumed the quarrel Saturday night.

The soldier was picked up Sunday and after questioning was held as a suspicious person.

Madrid Raps Mexico As Affronting Spain

LONDON, Sept. 4 (AP)—The Madrid radio said that the Spanish Republican government in exile set up in Mexico consists of "four ministers who represent nobody" and is "the embodiment of illegality, cruelty, crime and dishonor."

The broadcast said: "It is an affront to Spain" that "this dubious government enjoys the support and respect of the Mexican government, a country where Spain was always loved and defended."

Attempt to Save Corn Seed From V-Garden Impractical

By FOSTER H. WEISS

Head of Vegetable Gardening Dept., Norfolk County Agricultural School, and Director of the Boston Record-American-Advertiser Garden on Boston Common.

Q—I had some excellent corn this year. How can I save seed for next year?

A—Today it is not practical to save corn seed from small garden plots, as the corn plant crosses very easily. If you had good corn this year, the chances are that it was one of the hybrid crosses. Hybrid corn is grown under controlled conditions where both parent plants are known, and pollination is done by removing the tassels from one of the parent plants. In this way the seedgrower knows what the cross is and what results to expect. Hybrid corn is a first generation cross. If home gardeners attempt to save seed from the second generation they will get a mixed lot of seed that will not be true to type. You stand a chance of getting poor results. Seed cost is not high, and I would suggest that you check on the variety you had this year and the source of seed, and get the same variety next year.

Q—When is fall squash ready to use?

A—This depends to quite an extent on what variety you have in mind. If you are growing the Turban or Butternut and they had an early start, they may be ready now. Blue Hubbard, however, is still too green to use. Due to the wet season, these fall squash may be soft and watery, and I would suggest that you allow them to mature for several weeks before you use them. There are plenty of other good yellow vegetables in the garden that should be used now. Save the fall squash for later use.

JOHN D. H. LANG DIES AT 78

LONDON, Sept. 4 (AP)—John Douglas Hamilton Lang, 78, brother of Cosmo Gordon Lang, former Archbishop of Canterbury and Lord High Almoner to the King, died Aug. 31 in East Transvaal, it was announced today.

Tip on Explosion Wins Top Prize

Compelled by duty to be abroad in the small hours of morning, a Portland, Me., resident was wide awake to opportunity last week when a Norwegian tanker exploded in the harbor with tragic results. The Portland resident called the Record-American-Advertiser Tip Editor at Liberty 4000 to tell the story, and was rewarded with top prize of $10 from the $50 given weekly for news and picture tips.

Second prizes of $5 went to a Medford housewife who called promptly with a tip on a Medford domestic incident, and to a South End man for tip of a killing. Prizes of $3 each went to a Lexington man for tip of a crash which killed two and a South Boston man for tip on a carnival shooting.

Nine readers of the Record-American won $2 prizes, including an East Braintree woman for tip on a boy burned playing with matches; a Jamaica Plain man for tip on a fire; a Charlestown woman for tip on children building their own playground; a Taunton girl for tip on a plane crash; a Nantasket girl for tip on a drowning rescue; a Brookline man for tip on a sudden death; an Allston man for news of a South End battle; a Cambridge housewife for information on a tree crushing a boy, and a Somerville girl for tip on a harbor rescue.

Prizes of $1 each went to readers for tips on such incidents as a Cambridge police raid, a lost boy, a body found in the harbor, a manhole blowing up in downtown Boston, a chimney hit by lightning in Arlington, and a tree falling on a Dorchester home.

Widow's Death Probe Holds Man

Probe into the mysterious death of Mrs. Catherine Lee, 52, in her Tremont st., South End, rooming house, today resulted in the arraignment of a Revere war veteran on a morals charge after police said he admitted living with the woman from July 7 to July 28.

Mrs. Lee was found dead in bed, and Dr. William H. Watters, associate medical examiner, planned an autopsy to determine the cause of death. Police said the body had bruise marks on the neck and suspected she may have been strangled.

Michael del Visco, 38, of Genoa st., Revere, was ordered held in $500 bail until Friday by Judge Joseph E. Donovan after his arraignment in municipal court.

The body was found Sunday by Mrs. Georgia Waters, housekeeper, who said she last saw the widow on Aug. 31.

PARIS, Sept. 4 (AP)—A total of 37,000 Italian prisoners of war who have been aiding American forces in France, Belgium, Holland and Germany will begin returning to their homes today.

Fugitive Kimonos

By HAL BOYLE

YOKOHAMA, Sept. 4 (AP)—With money in their pockets and nothing to buy, four American soldiers sat on a ledge outside a bank bemoaning the fact they could find no souvenirs in all Yokohama. The boys were looking for silk kimonos to send home.

They were PFC Ira S. Sawyer of Creswell, N. C., PFC John Hadwiger of Pueblo, Col., PFC T. J. Speir of Alexandria, La., and PFC G. J. Hinchy of Bridgeport, Ct.

"Every time I try to buy a kimono," Sawyer said, "it runs away."

Woman, 68, Lost In Woods, Dies

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., Sept. 4 (AP)—A 68-year-old woman, found yesterday in a thicket about a mile from her home, alive but unconscious, died in a hospital today from exhaustion after she wandered lost in the woods near her home for six days.

When discovered the aged woman, Mrs. Clifford Gage, wore no clothes and was lying in a thicket in nearly three inches of mud. She was badly burned from the sun.

NATION WANTS REAL STORY

NOW THAT Army and Navy reports on the Pearl Harbor debacle have been issued—and have proved merely that the real story remains to be revealed—demands are being made at Washington that the long-deferred court-martial trials of General Short and Admiral Kimmel be held.

Those two officers, who have obviously been somewhat "smeared" in previous reports, have both demanded courts-martial and are entitled to such action if they still desire it.

But that will not put the truth about Pearl Harbor into the public record where it belongs.

From the very nature of Army and Navy transactions, the only result would be two more incomplete reports, and the American people have already had five reports of that unsatisfactory kind.

Army and Navy boards cannot subpoena the records of secret diplomacy which need to be examined.

Army and Navy boards have no authority to "discover" and to "disclose" secret orders that may have been issued over the heads of War and Navy departments.

Army and Navy boards, each confined within a circumscribed jurisdiction, cannot make a COMPLETE INVESTIGATION and render a COMPLETE REPORT on Pearl Harbor.

Only the Congress of the United States can do that: And exactly that is what the American people should demand and get.

FURTHERMORE, a Congressional inquiry should not be a one-house or a one-party or a routine committee proceeding.

Congress should appoint a joint committee of the Senate and the House of Representatives, divided equitably between the two parties and charged with getting—and giving out—THE TRUTH about Pearl Harbor.

Many questions need to be answered.

WHY, FOR INSTANCE, WERE "THREE BATTLESHIPS, ONE AIRCRAFT CARRIER, FOUR CRUISERS AND NINE DESTROYERS" DETACHED FROM THE PACIFIC FLEET AND "TRANSFERRED TO THE ATLANTIC" IN MAY, 1941, FIVE MONTHS AFTER REAR ADMIRAL BLOCH, IN HAWAII, HAD OFFICIALLY WARNED THE GOVERNMENT THAT PEARL HARBOR WAS IN AN INDEFENSIBLE STATE?

WHY WAS VIRTUALLY NOTHING DONE DURING THOSE FIVE MONTHS—AND IN THE FOLLOWING SIX MONTHS BEFORE THE PEARL HARBOR ATTACK—TO PROVIDE HAWAII WITH LONG-DISTANCE RECONNAISSANCE PLANES, WITH SUFFICIENT AND SUITABLE BOMBERS, WITH FIGHTING PLANES, WITH ANTI-AIRCRAFT GUNS AND WITH A WORKING ANTI-AIRCRAFT WARNING SYSTEM—FOR ALL OF WHICH ADMIRAL BLOCH HAD DESPERATELY APPEALED?

Why, a few days before Pearl Harbor, did Secretary Hull deliver to Japan the ultimatum that "touched off the war" in the Pacific at the very hour when the high commanders of the Army and Navy were preparing a joint warning to the White House that this country was totally unprepared to fight in the Pacific?

FINALLY, were our foreign and national defense policies formulated with the advice of our responsible Army and Navy commanders, or were policies leading into war made "higher up" without regard for our ability to support those policies?

Too much has become known through the five fragmentary investigations that have been held to sustain any longer the pretense that one or two generals or admirals were responsible for Pearl Harbor.

Enough is known to justify the opinion that Pearl Harbor was the tragic culmination of a long term of reckless and incompetent civil administration.

That very certainly is a question within the purview of Congress, and Congress should not be allowed to shirk its duty.

False love, and have you betrayed me thus
In summer among the flowers?
I will repay you back again
In winter among the showers.
Unless again, again, my love
Unless you turn again;
As you with other women rove
I'll smile on other men.
—SCOTT.

ON ENVELOPES of letters to wives and sweethearts of many British soldiers and sailors had the habit of writing "swalk." This meant "sealed with a loving kiss." The use of the initials in this way inspired some of the soldiers to use a reverse method to indicate on which fighting front they were located. For example, a soldier would close his letter by saying " I Trust and Love You." You will note the first letters of the words of this sentence spell Italy. Another soldier could conclude his letter to his sweetheart or wife, "Hope Our Love Lives and Never Dies." First letters in this spell Holland. The fighting men only got away with this for a short time. The censors caught on to it. Still, it must be admitted it was a clever gag while it lasted. I believe some American soldiers had similar methods of letting their sweethearts and wives know where they were.

WEIGHT AND FAT: A feminine subscriber who says she is five feet two inches tall and weighs 134 pounds wants to know if I consider her "a fat woman." Couldn't say unless I saw her in person or viewed a snapshot of her. Whether or not a person should be classed as "fat" depends upon the manner in which the weight is distributed and whether the flesh is firm or flabby. According to the weight chart, a woman five feet two inches tall should weigh 109 pounds. Nevertheless, a woman of that height could weigh 134 pounds and still not appear fat.

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: A prominent Milwaukee lawyer has an artificial left leg and an artificial left arm. Yet this courageous fellow has so much taken this handicap in stride that he drives his car, runs a typewriter, plays golf and is one of the best dancers in town . . . The British view of the new Mrs. Humphrey Bogart is interesting. Says a London newspaper scribe: "Sultry Lauren Bacall, former cinema usherette and fashion model with slumberous green-blue eyes, a voice like a blues singer, streaky blonde hair and a weary manner is Hollywood's newest wonder."

FAVORITE STAR: The discerning British film critic, Elspeth Grant, says: "Irene Dunne provides an intensely fascinating object lesson on how to grow less young gracefully." Quite so! Irene, who is this department's favorite film star, was born in Louisville, Ky., in 1904. She made her first appearance on the stage in Chicago when she was 16. Her first outstanding hit was in "Show Boat." If she had wished to engage in the necessary study and training, Irene could have been a Metropolitan Opera star.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q. Feminine writer claims that as women select husbands more by character than looks this proves the females are smarter than the males who pick their future mates chiefly by appearance. What do you think of this? A. Strictly the bunk. When a woman marries for love the looks of the man of her choice usually have much to do with her selection. When a woman marries for enonomic security, as so many do, the looks of the man are of secondary importance. The possibility of his being a good provider is most important. That is how women have achieved the reputation of choosing a husband by character. They want to be certain the old boy has enough character to bring home the bacon regularly.

STARGAZERS: "Why constantly refer to Aquarian males and ignore the females born under this sign?" writes a young woman of Milwaukee, who says she is the spokeswoman for 14 indignant feminine Aquarians. I hasten to oblige. The ancient stargazers had the following to say about the Aquarian woman: "Her ideas are strange and advanced and her body is slim with eyes of blue or gray and medium colored hair. She is a puzzle to all, for she scoffs at accepted ideas and has new ones of her own. She teases her husband by being perversely enchanting. She has a mind that is complex. She loves to appear more simple than she really is."

"You treacherous little rat! All these years I thought you was flatterin' me by always callin' me 'CAPTAIN Bligh!'"

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Copyright, 1945, by King Features Synd., Inc.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4—No sooner do I carve my initials on the fence intertwined with those of President Harry Truman inside a Valentine heart than what does he do but propose the forgivery of all those war debts.

Westbrook Pegler

I find that I have rocked through the crisis, however, because, after all, none of them ever did expect to pay off, anyway, and most of us didn't expect them to.

There is nothing they could use for money even if they wanted to pay and our labor movement and our manufacturers would never permit them to dump on our markets the equivalent in manufactured goods.

True, we could soak up a quantity of Scotch by way of return Lend-Lease but our native corn-squeezing interests would have something to say about that, considering that they are heavy taxpayers and employers, and by comparison with the total, we could use only a negligible amount of chutney, bloaters and tweedy things from Britain, caviar from Russia and champagne, camembert and lady-pants from France.

★ ★ ★

WE SAVE INK and manpower in the bookkeeping department and the wages and travel costs of distinguished bill collectors in another endless and fruitless series of negotiations such as, in the other case, left us with nothing but a few pounds of banknote engravings, the material evidence of the debt from the last war which, one day about 10 years ago, I held in my hands in a room where they are stored under the front stoop of the Treasury.

They are done in beautiful colors and autographed by Benito Mussolini and financial officers of Britain and France, millions of dollars at a clip, and, except as souvenirs, treasured by those morbid souls who collect birds' eggs, sprigs of statesmen's whiskers and postage stamps, they aren't worth their space in storage.

When a bank lends big money to an industry which is having trouble, whether from mismanagement or from reasons beyond its control, the lender assumes some control over the firm's affairs.

Our government also does this when it comes to the help of domestic industries.

If we were to take this position in relation to the debtor countries, we would undertake to manage the whole world. These other nations wouldn't let us do that even if we wanted to, and while it is true that in dealings between big nations and little ones, the big lenders insist on picking presidents, dictators and cabinets favorable to them, which just isn't possible here.

★ ★ ★

WITH REGARD to those offshore bases of ours created under Lend-Lease, some of us may think, impetuously, that we ought to insist on the cession to us, along with their inhabitants, of British and French islands where these works are, but what I say is that they are less trouble to us in their present ownership and management.

If we got them, we would have to make citizens and voters of some of the most temperamental, indolent, inefficient week-end revolutionaries on earth and by the thousands they would swarm ashore.

The present condition and the future of peoples abroad are described as desperate and warnings are uttered that unless we provide the margin anarchy and dictatorships will ensue.

That may be so and we may say that we are providing a great gift in burning the book and assuming into our own tax bill for many years to come the debts we would forgive.

But we might have some noisy troubles of our own unless our own people, and particularly the ex-service people, get decent homes and a chance to buy automobiles, clothing and food.

IN THE LAST 25 years, we have persuaded ourselves that there is some sort of guilt in our prosperity and comfort and should maintain in many other countries a standard of living which they desire, having heard of ours, but can't support because it simply isn't in the cards.

They are not only overcrowded but produce too little food. There are plenty of new fields which could absorb surplus millions and relieve the strain, but pioneering does call for some daring and a lot of hardship and hard work.

The question for Americans is whether we have the determination to enjoy our own gifts and advantages and create prosperity in a country which, under able management, could support all of us, but not all the rest of the world, on a scale that no other nation has ever known.

Hollywood Today

By Louella O. Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 4—I'm jumping the gun in tipping you off to this, but it is in the bag for Robert Cummings to play the Elliot Nugent role in "Voice of the Turtle" for warners.

Now there is an assignment to make any actor whistle "Dixie" for happiness, even Mons. Cummings, who often appears to the naked eye to be a very nonchalant young man. I mean, off the screen. No matter how much Bob sometimes annoys me in private, it never happens on the screen. Let's face it—he is a whale of a good actor and "You Came Along" proves he is far more than a good light comedian on the romantic side.

Linda Darnell

Just who lands the feminine star part—the Margaret Sullavan role—remains to be decided. But I can make a good guess, can't I? Eleanor Parker is coming along so fast at Warners I wouldn't be surprised if she turns out to be it.

★ ★ ★

FOR YEARS Linda Darnell was just another pretty girl on the 20th lot. She was the personification of glamor and beauty, but I don't think Darryl Zanuck ever thought much of her as an actress until he saw her in "Hangover Square" and "Summer Storm." Then he realized Linda had been miscast all these years. She is excellent in character parts. Her next part for the studio is as Tupton, the wife of the King of Siam. It is a tragic role, too, because Linda dies. The picture gets under way October 15 with Dorothy McGuire as Anna, and Charles Boyer as the king. Yes, that's now definitely settled.

LANA TURNER is a very much sicker girl than anyone realizes. She was supposed to go to the hospital for a check-up. That was almost three weeks ago. She's still too ill to finish "The Postman Always Rings Twice." Her doctor has told her she must stay home until she feels better. Lana, who is very conscientious about her work, has been fretting because she feels she should be back on the lot, but MGM wants her to be completely well. They certainly don't want to take chances with Lana, not only because she is one of their top stars, but because everyone on the lot likes her and everyone has expressed deep concern over her illness.

THE BRIDAL GOWN and veil Betty Hutton had promised herself were foregone when her bridegrom, Ted Briskin, put his foot down. "No more excitement, Betty," he told her. "We will be married at once and I am taking you away for a month's complete rest." For once Betty listened. She wore a gold suit which Edith Head had made and she bought brown accessories, ostrich feather hat, shoes and so on. Her maid of honor, Lindsay Durand, wore powder blue, while Mrs. Hutton wore a suit of almost the same color as Betty's only more subdued. Mrs. H. just made the train. "Now," she told me, "when Betty comes home the house will be ready for her. I believe Ted is right for her and I have a feeling this marriage will work out."

"It's taken Wilkins no time at all to arrange his postwar plans!"

★ ★ ★

MOST OF OUR boys hate to be stationed in bleak Alaska, and that's no longer a military secret. But I must say I received a cheerful letter from Lon McAllister, who is at Edmonton. He writes: "This past month I have been traveling throughout the Yukon territory (Jack London and Robert Service ground) into Northern Canada, Nome and Fairbanks. The folks at home may be interested to know there are many, many colored troops in Alaska, especially along the coast. I am very glad to read that the Negro boys are among my best fans. They recognize me immediately and, thank heavens, seem to like me off the screen. Seems that "Home in Indiana" was one of the favorites among the films they have seen."

★ ★ ★

CHATTER IN HOLLYWOOD: The romance between Eleanor Parker and Joe Kirkwood, Jr., son of the golf champion, will bear watching. Since the day they met, Eleanor has made it plain that he is the man in her life. Will you marry him," I asked, "when your divorce is final in December?" "Well, who can say?" she said. And when a gal doesn't come right out and say a big "No," you put that down as a marriage to watch.

★ ★ ★

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: Tom Brown may bring home a French bride when he returns from overseas. He has written his mother all about her; Bruce Cabot broke his toe in a peculiar accident when a slot machine fell on him; Leota Lane, one of the famed Lane Sisters, is at Colorado Springs. She has been a WAC since the beginning of the war; Buddy Rogers will get his honorable discharge from the Navy Friday. He has been in since the beginning; what a cordial welcome Mrs. Leslie Howard's friends in Hollywood will give her when she arrives to spend Christmas with Mary and Bill Gargan; the Bob Hutton-Cleatus Caldwell romance is sizzling. Saw them cooing at a table for two, so guess her reconciliation with Ken Murray is right out of the window; Xavier Cugat, I hear, put a neon sign with his name atop his house in good old Tom Mix fashion. But some of the Beverly Hills folk didn't care for that type of advertising.

★ ★ ★

BOBBY SOCKERS may like to know that Mrs. Millicent Jaeckel expects Richard back from overseas this month; France put down the velvet carpet for Rene Clair, once their top director, in an effort to have him remain in France. But Rene is returning to Hollywood; Gregory Ratoff is giving Darryl Zanuck his birthday party on Wednesday. Greg has been giving Darryl these dinners the past five years; George Raft presented Betty Doss, New Orleans beauty, with a gold lighter and a watch money clip all in one day. Yep, she is the one now for George.

Broadway

By Dorothy Kilgallen

Copyright, 1945, King Features Synd., Inc.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4—Welcome to our city! Welcome to the winey air of September, and the sparkle of silver sunshine on the great stone buildings, and the kaleidoscopic scenes of this isle of adventure!

Dorothy Kilgallen

I think you're discovering that you can't visit New York too often.

New places? Plenty this trip. New faces? Quite a few. New things to do? Why, stranger, what a question! This is New York!

Perhaps you feel like a corny expedition, just as a switch from the more sophisticated allurements of Manhattan. Why not start out by seeing "Why Girls Leave Home?" (double-featured with another killer-thriller) at the Gotham, then stop for a taffy apple at the nearby penny arcade on the Gay White Way?

* * *

THEN BY ALL means see the new show at Billy Rose's Diamond Horseshoe. You're probably too young to have seen Ann Pennington in her dimple-knee "Scandals" glory, but here she is, on view, raising the roof in a snappy Black Bottom, and although she may have been slimmer-waisted in the twenties, it's hard to imagine how she could have been peppier.

Did you ever hope to view a 457-lb. dancer doing high kicks and low wiggles? Cast your orbs on The Four Rosebuds (they're dressed like kiddies in a flower pageant), for the weightiest of that number tips the scales at exactly that figure, and her three sisters-under-the-flesh are not much slimmer.

* * *

ALL YOU STRANGERS want to know about food. Lady strangers from Lynn write me to ask about tea shoppes in the region of the Fifth ave. marts, and corporals from Oahu want to know where they can take their girls for soft lights, sweet music and a sweeter tab. Business men from Detroit inquire about unusual spots, and people from Philly seem interested in "atmosphere."

Well, if you happen to be on a shopping spree, you might enjoy a lunch at the Bird Cage at Lord and Taylor's—a very narrow choice, but everything's tasty and they get you out fast. But if you've plenty of time and you're in the mood for delicacies over which your mind can linger for weeks, try the Fisherman's Net on Third ave. There, bouillabaisse is always on the menu, and the chef must be a pixie, for he does things like tucking little quadruplets of shrimps into the cozy corner of a lobster.

East of Broadway, in the blocks between 45th and 53rd, you can find everything from good old American barbecued dishes (at Mammy's and Pappy's for example, which are situated side by side on 51st st. as Mammys and Pappys should be) to that indigestible and irresistible Italian equivalent of the hot dog, pizza pie. Stroll those side streets and you will have a hard time choosing between Russian, Mexican, Japanese, Chinese, Hungarian and Swedish eating houses, to say nothing of French bistros, where you're silly if you don't order onion soup and red wine.

I DIDN'T SAY I CAUGHT THE BIG PIKE I BROUGHT IN — BUT YOU CLAIMED YOU CAUGHT YOURS!
NOW THEN — YOU GAVE THE HERMIT A MOUTH ORGAN, AND TO REPAY YOU, HE GAVE YOU THE TWO PIKE!
THIS WILL FLOOR YOU, IZAAK WALTON, — BOTH OF THE FISH WERE CAUGHT IN SHALLOW WATER, BY THE HERMIT'S PET BEAR!
WHAT DO YOU SAY, JUDGE?
Gene Ahern 9-4

Boston After Dark

SOMETHING NEW HAS BEEN ADDED to "Mr. Strauss Goes to Boston" (which has gone to New York) . . . It is a comedy tune called, "You Never Know What Comes Next," and lovely blonde Florence Sundstrom, who sings it, probably agrees with the sentiment of the title . . . As Pepi, the comedienne of the new musical, Miss Sundstrom was congratulating herself on a piece of material titled, "What's a Girl Supposed to Do?"

* * *

IT LOOMED as a possible successor to "I Wanna Get Married" as the tune most likely to be pirated by every pout-faced soubrette of the cabaret circuit . . . And it was very effective as Miss Sundstrom did it . . . But Virginia MacWatters and Jay Martin, the romantic leads, now deliver "What's a Girl Supposed to Do?" as a duet . . . Florence won the new number—if that consoles her.

* * *

"MR. STRAUSS GOES TO BOSTON" should expect to attract most New York attention, incidentally, on its score . . . Three tunes stack up as probable commercial hits . . . They are "Who Knows?", "Into the Night," and "Going Back Home" . . . They should click in the order listed here . . . The new musical is sure to make George Rigaud, who plays the role of Strauss, an important prospect for the movies . . . He's an Argentine, via Paris—where the Argentine colony—before the war—was as populous as the French ditto in New York.

* * *

"DEVILS GALORE" at the Wilbur has had considerable laborious work devoted to it while Greater Boston was weekend holidaying . . . It has been doctored, and given more pace . . . The theme of a devil assigned to New York to capture a couple of candidates for a future life may sit better with New Yorkers than it seemed destined to do in Boston . . . The play's pseudo-sophistication and its labored breathing while attempting to hiss out shocks are formidable handicaps.

* * *

YET WILLIAM CAHN, the former Bostonian who produces the play, can take an A-plus for effort . . . The production qualities are as good as any man could do with the manuscript . . . One or two derelictions in casting are on the negative side, but the investiture of scenery and costuming are excellent, and Bob Perry's assignment as director was a canny choice . . . Giving cute little Wanda Winchell, alias Tony Eden, a chance at a leading role will be something else which Mr. Cahn can recall in case he yearns in future years for something nice to remember in "Devils Galore."

* * *

FOR THE RECORD: Friday's column, which speculated on Sunday or Labor Day being sound choices as V-J Day, was not cued by any person in Washington . . . It was, therefore, a pleasant surprise to this department when the President proclaimed Sunday as V-J Day. We were informed after the event that a news release from Washington early Saturday made known the President's intention . . . That release, however, came more than 30 hours after this corner's "hunch," and 24 hours after it had appeared in print.

Other newspapermen who follow news releases and "think stories" in the syndicated columns say that this pillar was alone, as far as they know, in hitting the designation of V-J Day accurately . . . Of greater satisfaction, naturally, was the fact that on Wednesday, Aug. 1, "Boston After Dark" predicted that V-J Day would occur before Labor Day—of this year, perhaps we should add.

Aug. 1 preceded the use of the atomic bomb, and Russia's advent into the war . . . It was a day when predictions as to the length of the war ranged from several months to a year, and in some cases, two years.

* * *

PLEASE credit our sincerity in explaining that notwithstanding the personal satisfaction derived from the 1000-1 shot which came true, our chief elation stemmed from the knowledge that the Boston Evening American was able to give its readers an authenticated prediction of the quick and happy ending of the most terrible war in history—a forecast which at the time seemed incredibly optimistic but which, to the joy of many who gave it value, was borne out by epochal events.

* * *

POSTWAR ITEM: Shortly on the market will be a new razor which may be a revolutionary development . . . The device is a self-honing safety razor . . . The user merely shakes the instrument, (we don't know how long) and a small honing gadget attached to the razor is said to whet the blade to an edge as keen as necessary for a perfect shave . . . One blade can be used "forever", its inventors say . . . Two young men in Long Island City worked out the invention and a Boston firm has been so impressed that it has promised a huge advertising campaign in this section in exchange for the right to introduce it.

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4—Mothers, wives and sweethearts who have long been separated from their loved ones, have cause to bless the name of President Truman. By his action, strong men—their hearts surely filled to overflowing—are to be returned to the bosoms of their families.

Elmer Davis

In honor of the gladsome occasion I have composed a lyrical sonnet which I hope will some day become part of American folklore. Anyway, I know of no lore against it.

I can just picture a mother, tears of joy streaming down her kisser as she bends over her tiny tot. The innocent kiddie is in his crib playing cribbage. While the child deals from a cold deck, the mother croons:

"Hush little baby
"Don't you cry.
"Daddy's coming home
"From OWI."

* * *

THE BEST of it is that you can get a discharge from OWI without points. In fact, if you try to stay in you will get points—the ones on Truman's shoes.

Of course, the passing of the Office of War Information will be tough on us newspaper fellows. Nothing to print from now on except news!

* * *

I'VE BEEN ASKED by many what I thought Elmer Davis would do now that he no longer has millions with which to muddy public opinion. I hear talk that he is going on the radio. Somebody suggested he could be sponsored by a hash-ish manufacturer. Imagine his dulcet voice opening the program with the transcription:

"Twice as much for your money too
"Kleinstaber's hashish is the thing for you."

My private advices, however, are that he will return to the great desert he discovered in our Midwest. In this barred waste, which OWI described so vividly in a booklet prepared for the Russians, he will undoubtedly resume his place at the head of his primitive tribe of nomads under his desert name, the Sheik El Mer Dav-Is.

Out in the foresaken stretches of Kansas, Nebraska, North and South Dakota, Wyoming, Montana, Colorado and Utah—as OWI described the region for the Russians—he will undoubtedly be welcomed as a long lost brother. As time goes on he will probably become a great legend.

Men may gather in the shade of camel skeletons and talk in whispers of the fierce deeds of the "Terror of Topeka." Or, if he moves farther north, "The Scourge of Saskatchewan."

The oasis, with its spreading date palms, will re-echo as the tribesmen lift up their voices in the steady, monotonous chant of the wasteland:

It was Christmas on the desert
And the sheikses all were there
Likewise El Mer Dav-is
With a turban on his hair.
In stalked the mighty sultan
And he shouted: "Listen, mates!
What will you have for Christmas?"
And the sheikies answered:
"Dates!"

* * *

BUT HIS departure will leave an aching void here. Just think of the people who will be left with no out. When we ask a bureaucrat the time he won't be able to say:

"You'll have to clear that with OWI!"

* * *

I HAVE JUST received a letter from Paul Hartman, who with his pretty wife, Grace, comprises the dance satirist team, The Hartmans. It seems they are in St. Louis, Mo., and finding the weather quite warm.

Writes Mr. Hartman:

"I don't blame Truman, Snyder, Symington, et al., for getting their jobs out of town. Another two days and I'll follow their tip."

I simply cannot understand Mr. Hartman talking like that. After all, he's been in Washington.

* * *

MR. HARTMAN sent a picture of himself and Mrs. with the inscription:

"If you can distinguish which has the grotesque makeup you won three copies of any Archibald MacLeish poem."

The above may sound a bit cryptic, but here's the explanation:

The Hartmans were once scheduled to appear in Boston on a Sunday. That city has a lot of regulations governing performances on the Sabbath.

Before going on, Mr. Hartman, who always uses his own, unadorned deadpan face, was handed a set of injunctions covering the act, among them:

"Man must not wear that grotesque makeup."

Jap Torturers to Receive Swift War Crimes Trials

By JULIAN HARTT

ABOARD U. S. S. BENEVOLENCE, TOKYO BAY, Sept. 4 (INS)—Two representatives of the Allied War Crimes Commission, investigating an attempted samurai sword attack on B-29 crewmen, said today that punitive action against Jap torturers will be swift and sure.

The advance agents of Allied justice, Maj. Edwin Fulcher and Lt. John Keck, said the drunken sword orgy occurred at Omori prison Aug. 17, two days after Emperor Hirohito's surrender.

Superfort crewmen and other prisoners captured during attacks on the enemy homeland during the closing days of the war disclosed this new evidence of Jap prison camp brutality.

"Jap non-coms got very drunk on sake early in the evening, screaming and shouting in their own barracks, and brandishing their swords at each other," related a captured naval lieutenant. "One cried: 'Hara kiri!' and slashed at his throat, but messed up the job.

"Then the non-coms advanced the 'special' prisoners' area near my barracks. One non-com made a sword swing at the commander of the USS Houston, but missed when slugged by a Jap duty officer.

"Extra guards arrived and broke up the melee."

The two war crimes commission representatives said that Jap torturers, identified in sworn testimony taken at Manila and Guam, staging areas for home-bound prisoners, would be docketed for speedy trial.

Arthur C. Smith Rites Thursday

Funeral of Arthur Calvert Smith, secretary of the Harvard Corp. and of the university's board of overseers, will be held Thursday at 3 p. m. in the Memorial Church at Harvard, with Dean Willard L. Sperry of the Harvard Divinity School conducting.

Burial will be in Mt. Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge.

Mr. Smith died Sunday at the home of his father, Arthur B. Smith, in Southwest Harbor, Me.

Widely known in banking and investment circles, Smith became secretary to President Conant of Harvard in 1940, when he also joined the staff of the Harvard Alumni Bulletin. He became secretary of the corporation in July, 1943.

Seeking Slayer Of Chicago Cops

CHICAGO, Sept. 4 (INS)—After questioning and releasing two suspects, police today continued their manhunt for the dirty-faced gunman who shot and killed two detectives.

The officers were shot during a running gun fight in Chicago's Rogers Park section after they had halted the gunmen for routine questioning.

George Hellstern, 52, died almost instantly, and Charles Brady, 36-year-old father of nine children, died three and a half hours later.

Hunt for Assonet Man in 4th Day

FREETOWN, Sept. 4—Search for Wilson Spooner, 50-year-old contractor, of Elm st., Assonet, entered its fourth day today. His family reported to police Saturday that he disappeared from home last Thursday, announcing he was going for a walk.

Singapore Again In British Hands

KANDY, Ceylon, Sept. 4 (AP)—British warships rode at anchor in the harbor of Singapore today for the first time in more than 3½ years, and word was expected here momentarily that occupation forces had landed to take over the once mighty naval base from the surrendering Japanese.

Triumphant entry of the British vessels was announced by the Southeast Asia Command, which said landing forces would go ashore as soon as preliminary arrangements had been completed.

Italian Red Killed In Fight With Poles

ROME, Sept. 4 (AP)—The Italian News Agency, ANSA, reported today that one Italian Communist was killed and two others seriously wounded in a street fight with Polish soldiers Sunday near Taranto.

The fight started, the agency said, when a Polish soldier asked civilians to remove Communist emblems from a wall.

Japan, 8000 in Pacific islands, 4200 in the Yangtze valley of China, 3000 in Formosa, 3000 in Shanghai, 2000 in Hongkong and 1500 in Korea, he said.

Gen. Eichelberger and two officers of the General Headquarters War Crimes branch listened with shocked gravity to stories of the prisoners they interviewed today aboard the hospital ship Benevolence.

One man was not there to tell his story. He was a B-29 pilot from Salt Lake City who had been brought aboard the ship from Omori prison camp, dying. Pellagra and the mistreatment he had suffered from prison guards brought death shortly after his rescue, said the chief medical officer, Capt. Frederick L. McDaniel of Alexandria, Va.

Virtually all the patients were suffering from extreme malnutrition and other complications—beriberi, dysentery, malaria, tuberculosis and various fevers. All had been beaten, and many had been denied medical attention until now.

Eichelberger saw an old friend among the prisoners, Col. Standley Livingston James, who had attended West Point two classes ahead of him, and exclaimed:

"I wouldn't have known him!"

Military inquiry teams meanwhile redoubled their efforts to complete lists of war criminals, while medical men promised the liberated Americans the speediest possible return to their homes.

Jap Vice Admiral Commits Hara-Kiri

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Domei Agency in a Japanese-language broadcast recorded by the FCC, said that Vice Adm. Matsuo Morizumi, Osaka Naval Defense District Superintendent of Shipbuilding and Ordnance, committed hara-kiri.

FENUGREEK TEA

FENUGREEK TEA IS A NATURAL HERB!

FENUGREEK is a natural herb that has given results to many when other methods seemingly failed. It has often been said that FENUGREEK TEA is "A Cup of Good Health from the Good Earth."

A cup of this very pleasant tea is taken before meals (and upon retiring). This mixes with the food in one's stomach, thus helping to absorb by solvency, the poisons that may sometimes foster stomach trouble. It thus often acts quickly to help relieve gas pains, acid-indigestion, sourness and belching.

Headaches, backaches, and that tired-out feeling are often caused by toxic poisons and by-lets of impurities in the intestinal tract. FENUGREEK TEA helps flush out impurities which may have been made you a long term. By helping to dissolve excess mucus, it can help make your digestive organs feel sweet and clean. Try it today.

Being a liquid mucus-solvent, FENUGREEK TEA naturally tends to flush out stuck stagnant bile and also to assist flushing of kidneys. If you are constipated. Try it half hour before breakfast. While not a laxative, this may help relieve intestinal flushing.

If your physician has placed you on an odor or roll-in diet, you'll enjoy the soothing effects of FENUGREEK TEA.

Tear out this advertisement as a reminder to get Lahrd Kender's FENUGREEK TEA. Only 50c a box — or $1.50 for the Economy Size, containing four times as much. (Add 10c for mail orders) Sold only by:

Boy Killed, Cops Hurt At Horse Show Riot

MANASSAS, Va., Sept. 4 (INS)—One person was killed and two State policemen were badly mauled during a riot which broke out at a Negro horse show.

Slain was Orvine Lacy, 16. The riot was halted when State Troopers appeared armed with tommy guns.

Lend-Lease End OK to Aussies

SYDNEY, Sept. 4 (AP)—The Sydney Daily Mirror today urged "less sniveling and more realism" on the end of American lend-lease, adding that:

"The fact that the cry against termination of lend-lease has been taken up by some Australians is an indication of the desire of certain sections to cling to the coat tails of Whitehall (England).

"Australia must not lose her sense of proportion. Without United States aid, Australia would have been engulfed by the Japanese and what we could have expected is now being revealed in atrocity stories from other countries that came under the heel of that brutal nation."

American policy is to relax wartime controls as soon as possible and to get back on a peacetime basis, the editorial concluded.

Phantom Warbler Irks Philly Cops

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 4 (AP) —The phantom voice of the police radio is really giving Quaker City cops the jitters.

A shrill, treble voice, warbling popular tunes over the same system thata normally gives forth with calls to patrol cops, has been holding unscheduled concerts for two days.

The police radio's baritone announcer was in the midst of a call when the serenade began yesterday. The singer—believed to be female—started in on "It Had to Be You."

Recovering his composure, the announcer sounded a siren call and went on: "Car 179, go to east . . ."

The message and "It had to be you" merged into a series of unintelligible noises. When static cleared, the phantom voice continued.

"If it is the work of pranksters," Inspector Thomas Burns said, "they'll be singing a different tune when we're done with them."

GI Brings Pride To Hyde Park

Folks in Hyde Park are proud today of S-Sgt. Francis B. Fermano of River st., who was chosen by Gen. MacArthur as chief mechanic aboard the giant silver C-54 "Bataan" in which the general and his staff were flown to Okinawa and then to Japan.

B. Fermano

The Hyde Park soldier, who holds the Distinguished Flying Cross and Air Medal, was chosen from all the mechanics of the 14th Air Force. He now has completed 130 missions.

While in Manila, Sgt. Fermano met a Navy brother, a survivor of the sinking of the Meridith. Before going to the Pacific two years ago he was married at Baer Field to the former Bernice Kenny, also of River st., Hyde Park. Mrs. Fermano now is serving with the Marine Corps Women's Reserve in Washington.

War Surplus Probe Urged

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4 (INS) —Sen. Stewart (D.) of Tennessee charged today that nation's 100 billion dollars' worth of left-over war goods is being handled "in a way that will let somebody get away with it."

"Out of enough to pay one-third of the national debt we won't get back five billions unless something is done right away," tewart said.

He assailed failure of officials to set up a central inventory.

"They tell us it is a physical impossibility, but a New York publication is able to assemble lists," he declared.

Try knocking out Hay Fever the scientific way

NEW!...VITAMIN

Trial Treatment for

HAY FEVER

BRINGING AMAZING RELIEF TO MANY HAY FEVER AND ASTHMA SUFFERERS

WHEN DUE TO VITAMIN C LACK

VEGETRATES A-S-C may be just what you need

Hay Fever—"Out"—Amazing Relief The New Scientific Way

Check with your doctor. Ask him what 100 mgm. Vitamin C can do for the sufferer of hay fever, asthma and food allergies

Three well known doctors recently reported in a prominent medical journal that cases of bronchial asthma showed marked improvement when the blood was saturated with Vitamin C, which is the basis of "VEGETRATES A-S-C."

We all know that in this life nothing is certain. These tablets may not help but—taken with a mucus free diet should prove beneficial. Hay fever sufferers wishing to experiment with this high potency Vitamin C can now get extra high strength Vitamin C in easy-to-take tablets at the Nature Food Centres Stores. These tablets are called "VEGETRATES A-S-C TABLETS." Think of it!—all this Vitamin C in one small tablet! Try "VEGETRATES A-S-C TABLETS" at once. They are inexpensive to use and are absolutely harmless. Each tiny "VEGETRATES A-S-C TABLET" contains 100 milligrams of Vitamin C over three times the minimum adult daily requirement. One or two of these tablets daily should be enough to give this a fair trial.

"VEGETRATES A-S-C TABLETS" will be found highly beneficial in improving the general condition, as well as effective in establishing systemic resistence to allergies.

Extra high strength Vitamin C, as found in "VEGETRATES A-S-C TABLETS," offers such great promise of success in these miserable sensitivities that every hay fever sufferer should try for relief now. Why suffer this season if "VEGETRATES A-S-C TABLETS" may stop that sneeze? Get "VEGETRATES A-S-C TABLETS" today at any Nature Food Centres Store. 100 Tablet Bottle $2.50. Marcia King Betrothal Told

By BETTY ALDEN

FROM THEIR Duxbury summer home, Mr. and Mrs. Delcevare King of Quincy announce the engagement of their daughter, Marcia Louise King, to Winslow Warren Sears, son of Mr. and Mrs. Winslow Sears of Chestnut Hill and Dennis.

Miss King is the granddaughter of the late Theophilus King of Quincy. She was graduated from Milton Academy in 1941 and this past year attended Sarah Lawrence College. Last December she made her debut with Miss Anne Edwards of Concord at a luncheon at the Junior League, of which she is a member.

Anne Edwards

Mr. Sears is a grandson of the late Hon. Russell A. Sears, former mayor of Quincy. He was graduated from the Country Day School, and has served with the American Field Service overseas.

WEARING a gown of white chantilly lace and marquisette, Miss Corinne Elizabeth Otis, daughter of Mrs. M. A. Otis of North Wilbraham, was married yesterday afternoon to Henry William Dunwoody of Leominster. The wedding took place at the Methodist Church in West Springfield, with Rev. Horatio F. Robbins officiating. A small reception followed at the Hotel Highland in Springfield.

Mrs. Hubert Reese of Westfield was matron of honor, wearing a gown of pale blue marquisette with a tiny matching hat. Her flowers were pink roses and gladioli.

Hubert Reese was best man and Frank Sorrento of Chestnut Hill served as usher.

After a wedding trip to New Hampshire, Mr. Dunwoody and his bride will live in New York.

Double Surprise!

CHICAGO, Sept. 4 (AP)—Three sisters, Mrs. Margaret Lifto, to Mrs. Mildred O'Donnell and Miss Rosemary Hunziker, packed up with two small children and started for Springfield, Ill., to surprise another sister, Mrs. Ruth Johnson.

They missed their train. So they turned homeward, their plan abandoned.

And there was Mrs. Johnson, her husband and son, who had come from Springfield on a surprise visit of their own.

Rice Treat For You

By MARTHA LEE
Household Editor

IT WOULD TAKE a cook with almost infinite imagination and ingenuity to exhaust the many possible ways there are to serve frankfurters. You've only made a beginning when you've served them "boiled," baked, broiled, and grilled—split and filled with various stuffings, and along with hot potato salad

Today's menu suggests a combination that may be new to you, Texas Rice with Frankfurters. The rice is cooked with peppers, garlic and tomatoes to guarantee an abundance of savor. Since the frankfurters are already cooked, all that's necessary is to lay them on top of the rice and let them steam long enough to become heated through. They'll come out plump and juicy, and taste superb with savory rice.

MENU

Texas Rice with Frankfurters
Combination Vegetable Salad
French Dressing
Rye Bread Butter or Margarine
Spanish Cream with Sliced Peaches
Coffee or Iced Tea

TEXAS RICE WITH FRANKFURTERS

1 lb. frankfurters
1 cup raw rice
4 tbsp. drippings or shortening
½ clove garlic
3 small chili peppers
1½ tsp. salt
1 No. 2 can tomatoes (or 2½ cups fresh cooked)
1½ cups water

Cook rice in fat until golden brown. Chop garlic and peppers and add with remaining ingredients. Cover and cook slowly until rice is dry and grains stand apart (about 45 minutes) before the rice is done, add frankfurters, cover and steam. Serve rice on hot platter with frankfurters on top. Makes 6 servings.

EASY AND ADAPTABLE

This dish is ideal to serve when dinner must be ready in an hour or less. Once the rice is covered, it doesn't require watching, so you're free to prepare the salad, get out the bread and butter, and so on. Frankfurters, of course, are like all the other ready-to-serve meats—they make getting a meal amazingly simple.

To prove its adaptability, this dish is equally suitable for a meal served in the back yard, or a picnic supper. You can cook it in the kitchen and take it to the heating spot in a heavy frying pan or kettle, carefully covered. Then again, it's an easy dish to prepare over a campfire, and the smell of wood smoke makes the flavor of the dish even more alluring.

SPANISH CREAM

1 tbsp. plain unflavored gelatin
3 cups milk
3 eggs, separated
½ cup sugar
¼ tsp. salt
1 tsp. vanilla extract or ½ tsp. almond extract

Soak the gelatin in the milk in the top of a double boiler for 5 minutes. Then add 2 tbsp. of the sugar and the salt, and cook over boiling water, stirring frequently, until the gelatin is dissolved. Remove from heat and gradually pour over well-beaten egg yolks mixed with 2 tbsp. sugar, stirring constantly. Return to double boiler and continue cooking over hot, not boiling water, until mixture coats a spoon (over-cooking may cause mixture to curdle). Chill until of a thick, syrupy consistency. Then add the vanilla and fold in the stiffly-beaten egg whites, into which the remaining ¼ cup of sugar has been beaten. Turn into a 1½ quart mold, which has been rinsed in cold water. Chill until set, then unmold. Serve with sliced peaches or whipped cream. Makes 6 servings. (This dessert may also be served with chocolate sauce, caramel sauce, butterscotch sauce, or crushed fresh or quick-frozen berries.)

Fashion Glamor From Fingertips Beauty

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE
Beauty and Fashion Editor

"YOUR FACE is your fortune" is an old adage which has more than a grain of truth in it. True, in late years we have learned that personality, brains and streamlined figures are pretty important, too, but the fact still remains that we are identified . . . and often classified . . . according to our faces.

Your face, actually, is you. You laugh with it, talk with it, express every emotion through it . . . and the more alive and interesting you are, the more of a workout you give your facial muscles in the course of a day.

Men are fortunate in that the lines they develop in their faces are put down to "character," whereas women get the same lines and they are marks of age. 'Taint fair, but 'tis true! Hence we remember our femininity and ward off lines, at the same time taking care with our daily make-up so that we present as pretty a picture as possible.

TRANSPARENT GLOW

Make-up bases have been a great boon. They cover minor imperfections and lines, give us a smoot surface to work on with powder and rouge, and altogether constitute a well-groomed appearance. However, we can, and often do, lean upon them too heavily. If your foundation is so heavy that it has a mask-like appearance, you can't look youthfully radiant or express honest emotion naturally. Moreover, some heavy bases are very drying.

We've been poking around trying to find one which will give a flattering base for make-up without filching any of the natural oils from the skin, particularly in the interests of women over 30. We have found one which is a great boon. It gives a transparent glow to the skin, holds your make-up on perfectly and blends with your cream rouge in a heavenly way, and actually feeds active oils into your skin all day!

This foundation is a pancake and yet not a pancake. It needs no water or sponge. It is a creamy cake over which you simply rub your fingertips, and then smooth the base over your face and neck.

FIVE SHADES

It comes in five lovely shades, lasts for ages and costs only a dollar and a half . . . and it can be carried in your bag conveniently if necessary. You won't ordinarily have to tote it, though, because once you have used it in the morning your make-up is set for the day.

Call Liberty 4000 week days, except Saturdays, before 5 p. m. for further details about this foundation, or write, enclosing a stamped and self-addressed envelope.

FEMININITY is the keynote of the new millinery fashions . . . as witness this smart chapeau designed by Germaine Montabert. It has a rounded plateau covered with shaded curled feathers from black to white, poised over a head-fitting cap.

PAULA DREW, Warner's lovely starlet, is so young that she doesn't have to worry about covering fatigue lines in her face . . . but we who do are concerned with make-up foundations that are flattering. Today you may read of one which also feeds your face instead of robbing it of natural oils.

Divorcee Awarded Right to Use 'Miss'

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN—I have just received my divorce, and since I have no children I applied for and was granted permission to use my maiden name. Will you please advise me which is correct for me to use, "Mrs." or "Miss," with my maiden name? My attorney advised me that "Miss" is entirely proper, but I am not sure about this.
W. M.

Since you have received the right to resume your maiden name, you should use "Miss," the title that properly belongs to and with your maiden name. There are also two other reasons for this: (1) Socially, it is never correct for a woman to use her first name after "Mrs.," and (2) "Mrs." with your maiden name (for example, "Mrs. Wilma Martin"), is a form of name you never had.

Regular Home All This Husband Asks

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: I've been married eight years to my wife who has T. B. but she's not so ill that she can't be some company to me, if she only would. She won't go anywhere but to the movies. Her illness seems to be the only thing that interests her. Home is just a place for cats and dogs which makes the house smell like a zoo.

She has a bad temper, hates company, and I have to go places by myself to get companionship. She could go out with me as I make good money, but what good is it when I have no pal? We have no children. I'm in my early thirties and think I'm entitled to a regular home

I wanted to enlist in the service, but didn't on account of her illness, although she could have stayed with her sister. It seems money is all she wants, and yet she doesn't enjoy it. Please advise me how I can spend my time out. I enjoy sports.
PITTSBURGH.

Don't you think it would be a good idea for your wife's doctor to give her what is known as a good talking to, and try to bring her to a more normal frame of mind? He would know to what extent she could go out with you and keep within the safety zone. The fact that she enjoys going to the movies proves that she hasn't lost all interest in amusement.

It might have been a solution to your problem if you had enlisted, though she might have found it hard to manage on an allowance of $50 a month.

I'm glad you like sports. They certainly offer a wide field of enjoyment.

Even Turbans Expand

By BETTINA BEDWELL

HATS BEING bigger and more imposing than for years this fall, the turban, which is important in millinery styles, naturally swells up to a new size, too.

Turbans like a cartwheel around the face and head are the kind the biggest milliners seem to prefer. They cover up the ears and all the back and sides of the head, leaving the face to shine alone like a jewel in a swirling circle of draped satin or velvet.

Such a turban is sketched here, and it comes from Braagaard, famed milliner, whose talent for drapery is very great. He makes this model of peacock blue velvet, and drapes it in soft, circling folds around the face, then builds it up to real heighth with more folds and a huge bow at the top.

With such hats you have to keep your neckline and shoulder lines very neat and unbuttered to get the best results.

"I wuz thinkin'...."

by Izzy Ort

I've got a big surprise comin' for you fokes right here on Essex street . . . before long you'll see the slickest, nicest cocktail lounge-bar you've ever expected to find anywhere. For further details, keep yer eye on this column . . . Ya kno, it seems awfully funny to wake up in the morning in a world at peace . . . it's been so long. Fer the boys in the Pacific, though, it's not over till they get back home, even though the shootin' is stopped. For them there's still that military routine, the same old chow, the same top sergeant, and a coupla thousand miles between them and home . . . Now that things in general are beginning to resemble those years of long ago, namely 1940 and '41, more and more people are beginning to let themselves go a little, have a little fun and relaxation in contrast to the long years of hard work, long hours and constant sacrifice whitch were our lot durin' the war. I kno, coz I see these new people come into me popular Grille here on Essex street to have a taste of the fun and entertainment they've gone so long without. Here, from noon till closing, these fokes find music, entertainment, a grand time and thrills they've gone without for a long, long time. Here, they let loose and join the fun that's as much a part of me popular Essex street Grille as the long, beautiful bar. Ort's, 25 Essex St. ADVT

JVA Units Will Can Tomatoes

Gardeners of the Junior Victory Army are planning to preserve as much of their vegetables and fruits as possible to meet this winter's needs.

This is indicated in reports from commanders of JVA corps and letters from individual members. Among the most popular of the products will be tomatoes.

Here are some tips on canning tomatoes: Use only ripe tomatoes. To loosen skins, blanch them. From 60 to 90 seconds is sufficient if boiling water is four or five times the weight of the fruit. Cool the tomatoes at once in cold water. Remove skins and core from stem end. Cut tomatoes into pieces convenient to put into jar and half fill it. Add one-half teaspoonful of salt to each pint jar. Press tightly and use extra juice as tomato juice.

Wipe sealing surface clean, adjust rubber and cover carefully.

To join the JVA, send your name, age and full address to Junior Victory Army, P. O. Box 228, Boston, Mass. If, in addition to enlistment, you want the JVA insignia pin and membership card, enclose a 10-cent coin well wrapped in your letter.

Read the next JVA story in Wednesday's Daily Record.

Women SS Guards Admit Camp Horrors

BAD OEYNKAUSEN, GERMANY, Sept. 4 (AP) — The French War Crimes Commission arrested two S. S. women guards of the notorious Ravensbruck concentration camp today and heard from them that 200,000 women and children were slain there during the war.

Officials said the women told calmly that feeble inmates were made to stand in water to their necks for 24 hours, and that many bodies were taken daily from the "pool of death." Thousands of French girls were sent to the camp.

WAKE UP, EVERDDY! COMON, GET UP!
HEY! WHAT'S THE IDEA OF ROOTING US OUT OF BED AT SIX IN THE MORNING?
CAN I HAVE MY BREAKFAST NOW, MOM?
JIGGS
FOLLOW HIM - THAT GUY LOOKS AS IF HE KNOWS SOMETHING -
IF HE KNOWS ANYTHING - WHAT'S HE DOING AT THE TRACK?
THE WAY HE KEEPS GOIN' AROUND IN CIRCLES - I THINK HE'S LOOKIN' FER HIMSELF!
I WISH HE'D LAND SOMEPLACE - I'M GITTIN' TIRED OF FOLLOWIN' HIM!
BALI!
ONE HAMBURGER WITH ONIONS!
ANNIE ROONEY
MRS LACY IS RENOVATIN' THE WHOLE HOUSE - IT'S LIKE A JIG SAW PUZZLE--
YOU MIX THE PIECES ALL UP AN' THEN TRY TO PUT 'EM BACK AGAIN WHERE THEY BELONG!
THIS LITTLE ATTIC ROOM BELONGS TO ONE OF THE UPSTAIRS MAIDS - I GUESS THE DOWNSTAIRS MAIDS' ROOMS ARE IN THE BASEMENT---
THIS LITTLE ROOM JUST FITS ME - IT'S BETTER THAN MY OWN BIG, BEAUTIFUL BEDROOM ROOMS ARE LIKE SHOES IF THEY DON'T FIT YOU, THEY'RE NOT COMFORTABLE.
DARRELL McCLURE
DOUBLE TROUBLE
I'VE JUST GOT TWO WEEKS OF VACATION LEFT
RING! RING
SMACK!
SNIFF! - SNIFF!
YOU'RE GETTIN' MORE N' MORE LIKE YOUR MOTHER EVRYDAY!
SKEEZIX
I DON'T WANT TO WASTE A MINUTE OF IT!
Last night me mother almost killed me.
For what?
Do ya remember the lasttime we went fishin' an' we had a lot of worms leftover?
Yeh!
Well, I was keepin' them in the ice box.
TUFFY
IT ISN'T HALLOWEEN, TUFFY - WHY ARE YOU TAKING THAT MASK TO THE PARTY?
BECAUSE I'M MAD AT LITTLE FREDDY -
- AND IF HE DOES HIS SONG AND DANCE ROUTINE AT THE PARTY -
- I DON'T WANT HIM TO KNOW THAT I'M ENJOYING IT!

If This Be Turpitude, Let's Have Some of It

By AUSTEN LAKE

Austen Lake

LAND SAKES! I DIDN'T plan to dig up this old bone again. But today this corner received two contrasting letters. One is from a well-known Boston clergyman who accuses, "Your recent campaign, for a State Lottery, happily thwarted, was to encourage moral turpitude and further infect public virtue with the gambling virus . . ." The other is a round-robin signed by 38 servicemen who expressed disgust with the "pinch-penny, miserly $100 bonus which, under existing cigaret and liquor taxes, obliges each veteran to pay his own bonus during a term of years."

"Turpitude" has an ugly ring! According to Webster it means: "Inherent baseness and vileness of principle or conduct." Dear me! Research shows that some of our most liberal statesman and educators were guilty of "turpitude" during the foundation of this great land. George Washington and Thomas Jefferson were among our "turps," and the first Congress of the United States and various college presidents.

In fact if lotteries were instruments of "turpitude" then this nation was partially founded on such depravity. For in 1775 Congress, including such great founders as Benjamin Franklin, authorized a "Continental Lottery" which provided funds to equip, arm and feed the rag-tag army which won our freedom. Tickets were sold publicly in Philadelphia, New York and Boston.

Princeton and Columbia Were Also "Turps"

BUT OUR "TURPITUDE" dates back farther. When Princeton University was known as the College of New Jersey in 1753, its president, the Rev. Aaron Burr, D. D., received license from the Colony of Connecticut to hold a lottery for "encouragement of religion and learning." And King's College, which later became Columbia University, was founded largely on sums derived from a lottery.

The first capitol building of the U. S. A. was cleared of debt by a lottery, $60,000 being received from that source to pay for transforming the old New York City Hall on Wall st. into the nation's seat where George Washington took his oath of office. Washington never had any scruples against lotteries for public benefits. When he was a member of the Virginia Legislature in 1768 he personally signed lottery counterfoils to finance the Mountain Road and later presided as the chief drawer at Col. Thomas Moore's private lottery at Southal's Tavern in Williamsburg. If you visit that quaint village, recently reconstructed by Henry Ford, you will find these lottery tickets among the museum curiosa.

So the Father of His Country saw no turpitude in such instruments. Neither did Thomas Jefferson, who ranks No. 2 in our Hall of Fame. He once wrote a treatise called "Thoughts on Lotteries," in which he endorsed them as a painless, sensible means of raising public funds, and mentions 70-odd occasions when Virginia, one of the strong, original pillars of our national conscience, authorized operators to "sell, dispose of and render accounting for such hazards known as lotteries for public benefit." And Jefferson, during his later adversities, asked legislative permission to raffle off his Monticello property by lottery.

There are lots more of the same thing! Of course, our forebears may have labored under a different state of grace than we moderns do, what with our horse and dog gambling and stock market speculation and the various didoes known as "moral expediency." For example, just last month the Philippine government issued its latest set of lottery counterfoils under the paternal protection of the U. S. A. And recently the Allied Kommandantur at Berlin authorized a lottery to help finance German reconstruction. And so lately as 1940 the good, solid, thrifty citizens of Massachusetts voted overwhelmingly for a lottery by referendum, almost three "Ayes" for every "Nay." Can that be a sign of turpitude? If so, I'll place a small wager that a similar referendum today would return a vastly greater majority of "Ayes"!

The Irish Sweeps Prepare to Resume!

IF THIS BE TURPITUDE, let's have some of it! Because we, the great key state of the Union, as we like to regard ourselves, have been married companionately with such "turpitudes" for more years than we like to confess. Never mind the hoss and hound racing, by which so many of our red and blue blooded citizens find fresh breathing air, relief from nervous tension and spiritual uplift. Just consider the merchandising of many annual millions of Irish Sweeps tickets which, with war's end, will shortly be resumed. My secret agent informs me that the big sales force of legmen, curbstone agents and dispersal offices, so scattered by world chaos, is even now being covertly reformed and is ready to operate as soon as England renews its stake races.

So presently a host of friendly characters will be selling turpitude again in downtown hallways, and we turps will be buying dreamstuffs at $2.50 the copy and, when we don't hit the Big Casino ourselves, will get a fine glow in the regions of our souls when some washlady or garbage man accedes to Oriental luxury, after paying a tax-share of the prize money to the state and government which pretend to outlaw such folly, but actually are in full partnership.

I have made a very close and fascinated study of the native Irish peoples in their home heath and have found them as spiritually wholesome and morally sound during the height of the Irish Hospitals lottery as they were when I first visited them in 1923 during the tail end of the Trouble. In fact, I recommend the native Irish, in morals and behavior, as patterns for any nation, including our own.

I will close by remarking that if our state legislators, who nearly but not quite passed the lottery measure in their last sitting, would reconsider, no returned U. S. veteran will feel smirched by turpitude if he is paid in bonus-cash derived from such source. Does that make me a turp?

Sox Handling of Ferriss, Bob Garbark Is Blasted

By HUCK FINNEGAN

It is difficult to understand the Red Sox. Note the slashing 8-4 victory they registered over the Senators in the Labor Day nightcap after their 11-5 loss in the shabbily-played opener.

It is difficult, too, to understand their interpretation of values. Note and note well:

Bob Garbark

1—Dave Ferriss hasn't been himself since the hayfever season (August) set in, but the Sox have been pitching him regularly even though he has little chance of winning. His record in late July was 17-2. His record Aug. 8 was 18-4. His record today after the Labor Day fiasco, was 20-8.

He tried thrice before he gained his 18th victory, twice before his 19th, thrice before his 20th and has failed twice to win his 21st. Why humiliate a great natural pitcher when he is so weak from asthma and hayfever he ought to be in a hospital? There's no pennant at stake. The Sox don't need money.

2—Bob Garbark caught his last game for the Sox Aug. 8 in Detroit as Ferriss dropped his fifth decision. Garbark reported a neuritic condition in his left shoulder. He couldn't lift his left arm higher than his waist. He couldn't sleep. Yet he remained with the club taking diathermy treatments only as often as trainer Win Green could borrow a machine from rival clubs.

His condition has been growing worse daily. His left arm has been affected so that its circumference is an inch less than the right arm. Why let a player delay when a trip to the Mayo Clinic might avert permanent harm?

Garbark was with Cleveland in '38 when Bruce Campbell came down with spinal meningitis. His teammates are worried about his ailment. Meanwhile Garbark stays with the seventh-place Sox, laboring into uniform each day, of no use to the club.

Recall 1940 when Dom DiMaggio reported to the Sox and cracked his ankle in an early March game against the Reds in Tampa. The Sox kept him in his room taking hot and cold water treatments from everybody but a physician. They paid $75,000 for him, gave him 5-and-10 cent care. They should have sent him to Boston right away. Instead he remained with the club, limping from whistle-stop to whistle-stop, and didn't break into the line-up until midseason, fortunate that he broke in at all.

Does it make sense?

* * *

Leon Culberson, troubled with a chronic knee injury, will undergo an operation during the off-season . . . So will Ferriss . . . La Forest rushed from the park to the hospital to visit his wife, who just presented him with a second child . . . The crowd was "on" Lake, whose erratic fielding helped spoil their holiday . . . Only "break" Ferriss has got in the last six games came Aug. 26 when La Forest's home run with two out in the ninth tied the A's. Ferriss' double won the game in the 10th.

* * *

Metkovich ran the bases like Ty Cobb in the nightcap. "First time I ever stole home," he admitted. Camilli has taught him a lot about base-stealing . . . No game here today. Cleveland here tomorrow for double-header and three ensuing single games. "Clark and somebody will pitch Wednesday," said Cronin . . . Happy Chandler saw the holiday twin bill. He'll also see tomorrow's twin bill. His wife is along to launch a ship, giving her 999 more to equal Helen of Troy's record . . . Vic Johnson, whose nightcap victory over the Senators seems to have knocked them out of the pennant race, never got a starting shot until Aug. 4. His record is 5 won, 2 lost. Ferriss has been chased four times in 29 starts.

"It's the Only Head of Hair You Have"

Your head of hair has to last you all your life, and once gone it is lost forever. We will not and never have accepted anyone for treatment who had lost their hair. Dandruff scales, dull and dingy hair can be signs of poor scalp hygiene. Over a period of years, thousands of men and women have placed their hair problems in our hands. Proper care of your hair and scalp may pay real dividends several years from now.

A consultation at any of our offices is always without charge or obligation. We will give you our opinion as to whether we feel that we can help you. The treatments which you may elect to take are paid for as you take them. Why not drop in today, it may pay you dividends in the future.

$181.20, $6.20 R. I. Dubles

For the second time within a week, there were two daily dle payoffs when the stewards ordered Tiny Sis scratched as the horses were in the pack for the second race at Gansett today. The previous consolation was Aug. 31 at Bingham when J. F. Curry was a late withdrawal.

The consolation pool coupling Selmalad, winner of the first race, with Tiny Sis was $6.20, which was collected by 781 ticket holders. Ticket holders of Selmalad and Pacification, winner of the second, received $181.20, and there were 183 such winners.

Tigers' Kramer Hits 2-Run Homer

YANKEE STADIUM, New York, Sept. 4—The "Big" series for the American League pennant opened here today as the league-leading Tigers battled the Yankees in the first of a seven-game series that started the Tigers' eastern swing.

The Tigers, 4½ games ahead of the Yankees—the team they figure they must beat—sent Dizzy Trout to the mound while Joe McCarthy picked rookie Al Gettel, who has won nine and lost five, to start for the Yankees.

FIRST INNING

TIGERS—Webb struck out. Mayo singled. Cramer forced Mayo, Gettel to Crosetti. Greenberg was safe on Grimes' error. Cullenbine struck out. NO RUNS.

YANKS—Stirnweiss flied to Greenberg. Metheny was fanned. Derry was called out on strikes. NO RUNS.

SECOND INNING

TIGERS—York flied to Derry. Outlaw singled. Outlaw stole second. Richards flied to Keller. Trout singled, Outlaw scoring. Stirnweiss tossed out Webb. ONE RUN.

YANKEES—Keller struck out. Mayo threw out Etten. Robinson was safe on Mayo's fumble. Grimes singled. Crosetti was purposely passed filling the bases. Mayo threw out Gettel. NO RUNS.

THIRD INNING

TIGERS—Mayo singled. Mayo stole second. Cramer hit a home run into the right field stands, Mayo scoring ahead of him. Greenberg struck out. Cullenbine popped to Stirnweiss. York fanned. TWO RUNS.

YANKEES—Outlaw threw out Stirnweiss. Metheny walked. Derry walked. Keller flied to Greenberg. Webb threw out Etten. NO RUNS.

FOURTH INNING

TIGERS—Cutlaw lined to Keller, Richards went out, Grimes to Etten. Trout singled. Trout stole second, Webb grounded to Grimes who tagged Trout coming into third. NO RUNS.

Tom Smith Named Rindge Grid Coach

Tom Smith, assistant coach of football at Rindge Tech the past seven years, has been appointed temporary head coach by the Cambridge school committee. He fills in for Mitch Metivier, who has been confined to a hospital bed throughout the summer.

Assisting Smith, who starred for Boston College as a fullback in the mid-twenties will be John H. "Smokey" Kelleher, grid official, and teacher at Rindge Tech.

All-America Ring Stars Clash at Callahan A. C.

By JACK CONWAY

NOW THAT LABOR Day is over and the greyhound season in Massachusetts has closed, Boston boxing promoters are once more on parade telling about the fistic offerings they plan to stage. Bitter experience has taught the promoters that summer boxing is not profitable, especially if the dogs are racing at Wonderland Park, Taunton or Raynham.

There was a time when the local boxing clubs tried to compete with greyhounds like Flashy Sir, Rural Rube and Bit of Buz. The fistic organizations usually ended in the also ran class. They found the public was more interested in trying to run $2 into $20 than in sitting quietly in ringside pews while a couple of healthy boxers tried to prove they could fight.

Willard Buckless

With as many as 20,000 persons attending the races at Wonderland Park and 10,000 more watching the greyhounds at one of the Bristol County tracks there was a shortage of ring customers.

The Racing Commision made the life of the boxing promoters more cheerful when it reduced the number of nights of dog racing. As a result the Messrs. Sam Silverman, George Freeman and Rip Valenti are busy arranging fistic shows which they feel will attract the fans.

Callahan A. C. Opens With Four Tens

SAM SILVERMAN's Callahan A. C. will be the first club in the field. It will stage four ten-round bouts at Mechanics Building next Monday night. Sam has billed what the promoters like to call a fighting card.

Willard Buckless of Saugus, who has won 27 out of his last 28 bouts, will have Bobby Zollo of Providence, with 12 straight wins to his credit, as an opponent. Buckless and Zollo are graduates of the All-America tournament, and they possess an abundance of fistic promise.

Timothy (Buddy) Hayes of the South End, who has been boxing before sellout crowds in Worcester, will take on Lew Macucci of Portland. Hayes is a hard hitter and better than average boxer.

Tommy Moore of South Boston will mingle with Tony Ferry of Fall River, while Ernie Forte of Providence will have Freddy Cabral as an opponent.

Rockingham Meeting Set New Records

WHILE NARRAGANSETT Park was getting off to its big opening on Labor Day, Rockingham Park released a statement which showed that its three weeks summer meeting was the most successful in the history of the New Hampshire track.

The Ray Metcalf-trained team of Castleman and Spangled Game were the equine stars, with the former capturing the $5000-added Granite State Handicap and the latter roaring to victory last Saturday afternoon in the $5000-added White Mountain Handicap. In each instance, the winner was the high-weighted horse in the figures of Racing Secretary John P. Turner and the results justified the faith of Turner in the route-running ability of the two distance stars.

The meeting, too, served as a springboard in the general direction of fame for young Francis Tobin, apprentice rider from Roslindale and little Harold Keene, another apprentice rider from Lowell. They look like the two most promising apprentices to burst upon the scene since Harry Pratt and Kenny Scawthorn came out of Pawtucket a few years back.

Tobin was the leading rider of the meeting, with 12 visits to the winner's circle in 18 days. He was hard-pressed by the veteran Joe Martin, who racked up 10 wins, with Georgie Hettinger and Bobby McKeever sharing third honors with nine apiece.

Keene, the Lowell two-star apprentice, rode seven winners and established himself as a probable star of the future. Carroll Bierman of Kentucky Derby fame, of course, was the outstanding race-rider of the meeting, riding six winners in only seven trips to the post.

The paid attendance for the 18 days was 244,744 for a daily average of 13,597 cash customers. This was an increase in patronage of more than 85,000 over a year ago, when the attendance amounted to only 159,499 and the daily average was 8861. Mutuel handle totalled an astounding $14,635,601 for a daily average of $813,088, as compared with the 1944 figure of $9,412,125 and average of $522,895.
